Central Basin Director Leticia Vasquez-Wilson Defamed General Manager and Staff

By Brian Hews

Central Basin Director Leticia Vasquez-Wilson (VW) will not give up trying to discredit the Commerce-based water agency she was elected to serve; the newest, and most shocking attempt hits a new low.

A video was posted by VW and her crony friend Rodolfo Cortez on April 18, 2022, and called into question the recent sale of CB's company building in Commerce, which netted the agency $2 million.

VW was at every board meeting that discussed the building and received all the paperwork, voting no twice on items related to the sale of the building.

Despite her votes, VW and Cortez posted a video on YouTube, maliciously defaming and slandering CB GM Dr. Alex Rojas and his staff, exposing the agency to a massive defamation lawsuit.

Everyone who has seen the video and knows the circumstances surrounding the sale of the building is shaking their heads in disbelief.

Cortez starts the video, "the building has been sold and there's a major problem. The district employee who executed the sale has refused to identify the buyer."

Commerce Councilman Mendoza Was Fired From His Job With Commerce for Dishonesty, Intimidation

HMG Staff Report

One week ago, Hews Media Group-Community News published a story concerning threatening emails sent from Commerce City Council candidate Leonard Mendoza to HMG-CN Publisher Brian Hews after Hews published a story about Mendoza's questionable campaign donations.

Turns out threatening and intimidating people who he does not like or agree with is a character trait of Mendoza's.

Several documents obtained by Hews Media Group-Community News show Mendoza was fired from his job at the city of Commerce for systematic harassment, intimidation, fighting, and ignoring safety policies that resulted in serious injuries to his crew.

A portion of the termination letter from Mendoza's boss outlining his "abusive and intimidating behavior, poor judgment, and dishonesty." Click to see larger image.

Mendoza's behavior was so abhorrent that the city was forced to hire outside attorney Sally Woolley; after she investigated, Woolley recommended the city fire Mendoza.

In 2014 Mendoza was fired with his boss writing, "You were demoted twice, we cut your pay twice and you still didn't change your behavior; we have to terminate you."

Mendoza appealed the decision twice with the final letter from the Commerce's Director of Safety and Community Services Matthew Rodriguez writing that the city "was basically fed up with Mendoza's chronic bad behavior."

Behavior Went Back Six Years to 2008

Mendoza was first disciplined in 2008 and received

FLAMBOYANT FLAMINGOS INVADE SOUTH COAST BOTANICAL

THE FLAMBOYANCE of seventy pink flamingos opened May 1 and has taken over the Amphitheater Lawn. The fantastic living sculptures are made from wire and peat moss, covered by pink flowering succulents. Also part of the exhibit is a pair of beautiful, oversized butterfly wings.

A few images or sounds may come to mind when you think of birds. The soaring, the sound of fluttering wings, hopping on the sand or the numerous bird tweets and chirps you hear throughout the day. There are birds that waddle and slide, quack, squawk or honk.

There's so much variety with birds. They can be as dark and ominous as a raven, as delicate and detailed as a hummingbird, or anywhere in between. I think you can call the 'Flamboyance of Flamingos' now at South Coast Botanic Gardens in-between.

South Coast Botanic Garden is 87 acres of masterpiece creative land reclamation and environmental improvements. It is a living testimonial to the fact that land reclamation offers a practical solution to refuse disposal problems and beautifies and improves land values at the same time.

The Garden has become a beautiful and refreshing urban oasis among the hustle and bustle of a major metropolitan area.

Battling Invasive Disease Carrying Mosquito With Engineering

By Anna Maria Barry-Jester
Edited by HMG-CN

Bryan Ruiz moved his family into a newly built home in this Central Valley farming center seven months ago and almost immediately found they were under assault.

Mosquitoes bit and harassed them in broad daylight. He looked around, trying to find a water source where they were breeding. He found a pipe, grabbed a turkey baster, drew water, and found the larvae of Aedes aegypti, one of the greatest threats to humans on the planet.

Aedes aegypti is a mosquito capable of infecting humans with the deadly diseases of dengue, chikungunya, yellow fever, and Zika.

Since gaining a foothold in California less than a decade ago, Aedes aegypti has spread quickly across the state, its territory now ranging from the desert terrain of Imperial County at the U.S.-Mexico border to the city of Redding in woody Shasta County, about 750 miles north.

To combat aegypti, mosquito control districts rely on the same tools they were using decades ago — pesticides and rooting out water sources — even as the mosquitoes thrive in places previously uninhabitable.

But Tulare County officials hope the region will soon be a testing ground for a new generation of technology; a genetically modified mosquito.

The most immediate mosquito danger in Tulare County comes from a different genus, Culex, a type that typically bites at dawn and dusk and can carry West Nile virus, St. Louis encephalitis, and western equine encephalomyelitis virus, all of which can be fatal.

Aedes aegypti, however, is a growing concern, and much harder to combat.

To understand this fight, you first have to understand just how stealthy Aedes aegypti is. The mosquitoes can lay eggs in spaces as small as a bottle cap. Most other types eggs need water, but Aedes aegypti's can lie dormant for months, springing to life when water eventually does come.

And one mosquito can bite many times over, snacking repeatedly on the same human or moving from one to the next.

Aedes aegypti mosquitoes in the area are also broadly resistant to the family of chemicals most frequently used to kill adult mosquitoes.

Which is why agencies are interested in a genetically modified mosquito. Their hope is that the engineered mosquitoes reduce the number of wild Aedes aegypti as they interbreed and produce short-lived offspring.

The engineered mosquito is made by a company called Oxitec. The company says its latest product releases only male mosquitoes which do not bite. They are genetically modified to carry a "self-limiting" gene that is passed on and theoretically prevents the offspring from surviving to adulthood.

Oxitec and the Delta mosquito district are waiting for permission from the California Department of Pesticide Regulation to launch the insects.

The goal is to build on the earlier research, which shows that the modified AEDES AEGYPTI is a mosquito that can carry deadly diseases of dengue, chikungunya, yellow fever, and Zika. The mosquitoes can lay eggs in spaces as small as a bottle cap. Most other types eggs need water, but Aedes aegypti's can lie dormant for months, springing to life when water eventually does come.

Aedes aegypti temporarily reduces the wild mosquito population but has left scientists with questions. Among the unknowns is whether the Oxitec mosquitoes are indeed incapable of producing viable offspring with wild females.

Experts hope California will independently track the experiment and not leave the analysis in the hands of a private company that stands to benefit. They say if an independent source and the company are in agreement when all the results are done, that has much more power and much more potential for the future.

A previous trial in Houston used MosquitoMate, which releases male mosquitoes infected with the bacteria Wolbachia. When the MosquitoMate mosquitoes breed, they produce eggs that do not hatch. Those mosquitoes were also tested in Fresno County in 2018 and 2019 and led to a 95% reduction in female Aedes aegypti, according to a study on the trial.

Oxitec hopes its mosquitoes eventually will be sold to mosquito control districts in the U.S., and directly to American consumers. That option is already available in Brazil, via a consumer subscription service that costs $10 to $30 a month.

In the U.S. prototype, the mosquitoes would come in a hexagonal box decorated with playful insects. If all goes as planned, consumers would just add water, and the mosquitoes would spring to life.

This story was produced by KHN, which publishes California Healthline, an editorially independent service of the California Health Care Foundation.

Norwalk Teacher Receives Milken Educator Award

By Tammy McDuff

Angelica Gunderson is inspiring a new generation of young scientists in Southern California. She is a lead teacher at Los Alisos for Project Lead the Way, a three-year science program covering coding, robotics, green architecture, and technology while teaching bilingually.

Gunderson is the sole educator in California and among more than 60 teachers nationwide who received this prestigious award during the 2021-22 season. She is the first recipient of the Norwalk-La Mirada Unified School District. Gunderson's career received a boost when she was surprised Tuesday, May 10, with a National Milken Educator Award and a $25,000 cash prize.

Milken Educator Awards Senior Program Director Greg Gallagher and California State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond presented Gunderson with the prestigious recognition before cheering students, appreciative colleagues, and state and local dignitaries. In addition to today's festivities, Gunderson will join a national network of more than 2,800 Milken educators and leaders across the U.S.

Los Alisos was recognized by the California League of Schools as a "School to Watch" in 2020. Gunderson is a 'Femineer' and leads the 'Snap the Gap' programs; both focused on closing the gender gap in STEM careers.

She was one of the forces behind Los Alisos' adoption of Advancement via Individual Determination, an equity-focused college readiness program. Students visit colleges such as Stanford University and Cal Poly, and come back ready to major in engineering because of Gunderson's passion.

At Los Alisos, Gunderson sits on the site leadership and NGSS committees. She mentors new science teachers and leads NGSS training. The pandemic threw a wrench into Gunderson's highly collaborative Project Lead the Way video production class. Determined, she helped students produce, edit and distribute their weekly newscast, even as they all worked from home instead of a fully-equipped classroom.

Gunderson teaches pre-service and in-service science educators as a professor at California State University Long Beach. She models research-based approaches to teaching science and always thinks about learning through the eyes of the children she teaches. She served as lead teacher at CSULB's Young Scientists Camp and attended Exploratorium's Institute for Inquiry. She has led professional development for the district and presented at the Computer Science Teachers Association on integrating Next Generation Science Standards and STEM instructional strategies for English learners.

No matter their background, students at Los Alisos STEM Magnet Middle School in Norwalk, California, can look to legendary scientists and see their future. That's because they have a powerful advocate, Angelica Gunderson, in their corner.

One-Day Communal Public Art Installation at Portos

WEAVE OF HOPE: (l-r) Devin McDuffee, Manager; Yeu Nguyen, Artist; Juliana Canty, STAY Programs Director and Gabriel Enamorado Co-Founder & Executive Director of STAY Gallery in front of the Hope Weave. Participants had the opportunity to create their own personal definition of what 'Hope' meant to them.

By Tammye McDuff

An interactive art installation, entitled 'Hope' was held outside of Porto's Bakery for a one-day communal public art installation with Los Angeles based artist Yeu Q Nguyen.

Participants had the opportunity to create their own personal definition of what 'Hope' meant to them, which was added to a large-scale tapestry made from up-cycled materials.

A temporary public art project created by Los Angeles based artist Nguyen, 'Weaving Hope' has traveled to various cities throughout LA County on a mission to gather over one thousand personal definitions of hope to uplift community resilience and connection through art. The installation is half way to their goal, with just over 500 messages.

"When all the art venues were shut down and there was no way for people to safely interact with each other, I created this piece," stated Nguyen, "It is specifically twelve feet wide so that people could safely distance." The art piece was created during a particularly dark period, "With the news and social media focusing on conflict and despair, I wanted to bring breathing space – something positive for people to express themselves, their vulnerabilities, while staying safe."

The goal is to visit every city in Los Angeles County, to collect 'feathers'. The feathers are pieces of paper shaped as feathers, where people can write a wish, a need, a hope, which are then attached to the larger installation. After a month long exhibition, a sculptural art piece will then be created from the feathers.

In December 2021, the project was awarded the 2021-22 Fall Grant from Eastside Arts Initiative to bring its message of hope to Southeast LA [SELA] communities, with Stay Gallery serving as the project's fiscal sponsor. The SELA chapter of 'Weaving Hope' will culminate with a featured display of the tapestry as part of an art exhibition at Stay Gallery titled 'The Resilience Project' opening Friday, May 20 at Stay Gallery in Downey.

The first 50 participants to interact with the tapestry and/or post their personal definition on social media received a free pastry bag from Porto's.

Two ABCUSD Principals Considered for National Recognition

Mr. Briquelet is nominated for the 2023 National Principal of the Year Award from the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

"It's really no surprise that Dr. Huh and Mr. Briquelet are being considered for national recognition," said Superintendent Dr. Mary Sieu. "They have done extraordinary jobs as principals during the pandemic. Their commitment to their students and leadership skills helped bridge the gap from online learning to coming back to the classroom."

Dr. Huh began her career in education 23 years ago. She has served as a teacher, assistant to the principal, and principal at two ABCUSD schools. She has been the principal at Willow Elementary School for six years. The Association for California School Administrators Region 14 named Dr. Huh as Elementary Principal of the Year in 2019.

Mr. Briquelet has been an educator for 33 years, beginning his career in South Los Angeles. He has served as a language arts and English teacher, football and wrestling coach, department chair, and assistant principal. He has been at Whitney High School, recently ranked as the top high school in California, for six years. Last year, Mr. Briquelet was named Secondary School Principal of the Year for the State of California by the Association for California School Administrators.

This fall, both principals should hear from the organizations determining their respective awards.

WUHS's New Pioneer High School Principal

WHITTIER – The Whittier Union High School District has selected Mary Chapman, as the school's new principal.

Chapman, who has more than 15 years of experience as a teacher and administrator, began her career as a biology instructor and activities director at El Rancho High School in Pico Rivera.

Chapman came to Pioneer in 2016 as the assistant principal of guidance and counseling.

"I am excited, honored and humbled to shift into the role of principal at Pioneer High," Chapman said. "Thank you to Whittier Union and the Board of Trustees for giving me this amazing opportunity. In six years at Pioneer, I have grown to love our community. I'd like to thank everyone at Pioneer High and especially Lilia Bozgian. I will do whatever it takes to guide the Titan family to the next level."

Quilts of Valor Given to Veterans

By Tammye McDuff

The Bellflower Quilts of Valor awarded twelve handmade quilts to veterans at the Good Shepard Church in Los Alamitos, this past Wednesday, May 11.

QOV member Esther Fairris stated, "Thanks to all of the veterans gathered here today for your service. The quilt will have the Veterans name on it along with those who worked on the quilt."

Awardees were Geno Cavidini, Roy Benstead, Robert Bilevich, Ed Bush, Richard Crowe, Harry Davies, Bob Keester, David Lauritsen, Richard Ramseyer, Dudley Vejsicky, and Sue Whited.

Quilts of Valor Foundation began in 2003 with a dream, literally a dream. Founder Catherine Roberts' son was deployed in Iraq, "The dream was as vivid as real life. I saw a young man sitting on the side of his bed in the middle of the night, hunched over. I saw him in the next scene wrapped in a quilt. His whole demeanor changed from despair to well-being."

Volunteers donate their time and materials to make a quilt; one person pieces the top, and the other quilts it. Quilts of Valor was recognized this year for awarding 300,000 quilts.

May 4, Congresswoman Sánchez formally delivered a ceremonial check to city officials for the advancement of the city's PFOS and PFOA filtration projects.

Since 2019, the State Water Resources Control Board has been updating its guidelines for local water agencies to follow in detecting and reporting the presence of PFOS and PFOA in drinking water. These compounds are within the per- and poly-fluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) family of chemicals that are used extensively in consumer products such as carpets, clothing, furniture fabric, food packaging, non-stick cookware and firefighting foams.

As the updated guidelines were announced, the city has been notifying affected customers of the presence of PFOS and PFOA in the drinking water but has not yet had to shut down any of the city's wells due to the fact that the levels detected are still within the limits of safe deliverable water. As a result of the State guidelines, like many area Cities and Water agencies, city officials have been working to find solutions to eliminate this chemical in the city's water supply.

Beginning in July 2020, the city adopted a Water Master Plan that would address the water quality and treatment needs including the treatment for PFOS and PFOA chemicals. Later in November 2020, the first major steps were taken when the design contract for a water treatment system was awarded for all of the city's water treatment facilities. Since then, the city's treatment facilities have undergone several improvements including electrical upgrades in order to accommodate the necessary equipment needed to filter out PFOS and PFOA chemicals from the drinking water supply.

"We are grateful for the support from Congresswoman Linda Sánchez in helping the city address this very critical issue," said Mayor Dr. Monica Sánchez. "Our goal is to provide our residents with safe drinking water. It's a goal that is shared with Congresswoman Sánchez, and it's a goal that the City of Pico Rivera intends to accomplish."

Construction of the first project is anticipated to begin in May of 2022.

Residents who have questions or concerns can contact the city's Public Works Department at 562.801.4421.

Railroad Underpass in Montebello Could Start in the Fall

UNION RAILROAD UNDERPASS: Montebello Blvd. (arrow) will run under the railroad once the grade separation is finished. Above is Olympic Blvd.

Staff Report

The design of the proposed underpass at Montebello Boulevard is nearly done and demolition could begin as soon as the fall of this year.

If all goes as planned, the underpass will be finished in 2023.

Improvements at Greenwood, Maple and Vail avenue crossings will also be part of the project.

The Montebello City Council approved a construction agreement then they held a community workshop providing information on the plan.

As with all grade separation projects, Montebello's will be a very positive benefit for the community.

The Union Pacific Railroad track typically has 40 trains a day, and residents sometimes have to wait 20 to 40 minutes for trains.

The nearly $100 million project is not fully funded, with a deficit of about $70 million, but officials are very optimistic they can get the additional money.

The project has endured an over twenty-year gestation period, with disputes over how to end traffic congestion on all four streets.

The underpass will begin immediately south of Los Angeles Avenue and cross under Olympic Boulevard.

A bridge will be constructed for Olympic Boulevard as well as the railroad.

Limited access from Olympic to Montebello Boulevard will be provided via frontage roads on both sides of new retaining walls only to the north.

Montebello Boulevard will be closed during much of the construction, while Vail and Greenwood will serve as the detours during the construction.

WRD Will Build Well to Inject Two Million Gallons Per Day Into Basin

By Tammye McDuff

The Water Replenishment District celebrated a groundbreaking and recognition of grants that will allow an Inland Injection Well Project at the Leo J. Vander Lans Advanced Water Treatment Facility in Long Beach, May 6.

The state of California is headed toward another hot season and a possible drought cycle. When the WRD Inland Injection Well Project is complete, it will yield up to two million gallons of purified recycled water per day injected into groundwater aquifers for storage and future use. By recycling local water sources and storing them in underground aquifers, the project will act as a buffer during droughts, reducing stress on imported water supplies.

WRD Board President John Allen noted that "Our job of protecting and replenishing our local groundwater resources are more important now than ever; the WRD Inland Injection Well Project will contribute to a drought-proof water supply for the four million residents that live in the WRD service area."

The project received two grants for funding: $1.5M grant funding from PepsiCo as a part of their water sustainability initiative and $1.5M grant funding from the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

PepsiCo rolled out PepsiCo Positive, a sustainability branch of the company. Their goal is to replenish 100 percent of the water used in their manufacturing by 2025.

"Sustainability is at the heart of everything we do," said Johannes Evenblij, President of West Division at PepsiCo Beverages North America, "we have goals that aim to strategically transform the way we do business and to do what's best for our planet."

Funding from the United States Bureau of Reclamation of $1.5M was secured with support from Congressman Alan Lowenthal. "For over a decade, I've proudly supported WRD's efforts to develop a reliable and sustainable local water supply. The inland injection well is a natural next step in our work towards a drought-resilient region."

Construction of the project will be completed this summer.

WRD manages two of the nation's most utilized urban groundwater basins under south Los Angeles County. In 2013 he received another Notice to Demote for putting his paint crew in danger, and abuse of authority. As the city tried to intervene with safety programs, Mendoza did not change his abusive pattern of behavior.

One incident occurred in 2014, investigated by Woolley, finding Mendoza ordered his employee to use an inferior ladder to paint a ceiling.

The employee fell off the ladder, sustaining serious injuries.

In another incident, he challenged one of his employees to a fight; the incident was corroborated by two other employees.

When Mendoza testified, several witnesses later contradicted Mendoza's with the attorney ruling that Mendoza lied during the investigation.

"His testimony was not credible, [we found] Mendoza breaks the rules all the time when it comes to his other employees," wrote attorney Susan Wolley.

In another incident, Mendoza's crew had to move a large desk. They asked-doza's to help, he stated, "you do it."

The employee tried to move it and severely injured his elbow; out of work for nine months and filing a worker's compensation claim against the city.

The report stated that several of the witnesses involved in the investigation expressed concern about retaliation by Mendoza, that was the last straw, in mid-2014, the city terminated Mendoza.

CIF-SS DIV. 5 SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS

Norwalk's second inning offensive barrage backs up Banda's pitching gem in second round rout

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

In 2016, the Norwalk High softball team advanced to the CIF-Southern Section quarterfinals. Two years later, the Lancers got to that spot again and this season, thanks to a sophomore pitcher, a senior-ladened team and one big inning against Montclair High, Norwalk is back in the quarterfinals.

Jailynn Banda had one of her finest pitching performances of her brief high school career, retiring the first nine batters she faced and the final 11 batters of the game as the Lancers blanked the 10th ranked Cavaliers 7-0 this past Tuesday in a Division 5 second round game. Banda gave up a first-pitch single to Adriana Velasquez to begin the top of the fourth inning, then a base hit to Vivian Medinilla on an 0-2 count. A comebacker to Banda off the bat Annica Umana forced Velasquez at third and after that, no other Montclair hitter would reach base.

"Technically, I wasn't supposed to come to Norwalk," said Banda. "I was supposed to go to a private school. But you know what, this is my city that I want to represent. Last year we went to [the playoffs]; we made it to the first round and this time, we're doing it better and we're doing it harder than last year. We're going to fight until we win [a championship]."

An emotional Banda added that she was doing this for the 11 seniors and former head coach Vic Juan, who passed away shortly before the season began.

"In the first three innings, I know she mixed her pitches," said Norwalk first-year head coach Fred Perez. "But in the last four, when she was closing them out, she really felt comfortable. Everything was working for her. She was going with the pitches she felt most comfortable."

In the first three innings, Banda got four batters to groundout, three of them to her, and she struck out three. In the last three frames, she struck out four, including the side in the seventh inning, and ended the game with eight strikeouts while throwing 81 pitches. She was up to 45 pitches entering the fourth inning and threw a first-pitch strike to 14 of the 23 batters she faced.

"I was scared because I have never seen this team," said Banda. "We researched them for a good couple of days and [there was] nothing on them. So, I was looking nervous; I didn't know what do. But I knew that me and my catcher and my defense were good and whatever happened, happened."

"I was thinking, 'okay, we make mistakes at the end of the day'," said Banda of losing the perfect game. "No one is ever going to be perfect. I was thinking just to keep going. We were up, so I was feeling relieved."

Offensively, the Lancers did all their damage in the bottom of the second inning when they sent 11 batters to face Desirae Garcia. It started when senior first baseman Brianna Perez singled to right and Garcia walked junior left fielder Kasarey Lotts. Another walk to sophomore designated player Itzel Hernandez loaded the bases and with one out, junior second baseman Leilani Juan blooped a single to right field, scoring senior pinch runner Andrea Torres.

NORWALK HIGH senior right fielder/pinch runner Kazandra Gonzalez slides into home and scores her team's third run in bottom of the second inning in this past Tuesday's CIF-Southern Section Division 5 second round win against Montclair High. whose throw home to get Lotts was not in time. Three pitches later, sophomore shortstop Kendall Nakano singled to center, plating senior pinch runner Kazandra Gonzalez and Juan. An infield single from junior third baseman Cerise Cervantes would load the bases again and after the second out, an error allowed Brianna Perez to reach first and clear the bases.

"They executed the squeeze perfectly in that inning, and then they made that one error...that opened the game for us," said Fred Perez. "It gave Banda a little more breathing room to do what she does on that mound."

Only four runners would reach base the rest of the game after the second inning and even when the Cavaliers put the first two batters on base in the fourth inning, Fred Perez wasn't feeling too comfortable.

"I told the girls regardless of what the score is, they're not going to go out without fighting," he said. "In [the fourth inning], they came back and had two people on base and that's exactly what I expected them to do."

Cervantes and Nakano each had a pair of hits as the Lancers (20-7), ranked seventh in the division, posted the program's first 20-win season in at least 25 years. Before this season, the best season Norwalk has had since 1999 came in 2001 and 2007 when those teams finished 19-8. The Lancers, who finished in a tie for second place with Mayfair High in the Suburban League, traveled to second ranked El Toro High on May 12. A win over the second place representatives from the Sea View League would put Norwalk in the semifinals at either Fillmore High or Flintridge Sacred Heart High on Saturday. Both are unranked.

"That was our goal with Coach Vic, and what we all talked about was making noise in the playoffs," said Fred Perez. "We remind every single girl, and our whole program, that Coach Vic's main thing was look good, feel good and play good. He wanted us to make noise. I know he's here and he's celebrating with us."

"We just told the girls we've got to bring the same energy we have here at home...we have to take it on the road," he later added. "That's the main thing; the energy we bring helps us and carries our team."

WONDERWORD

By DAVID OUELLET

HOW TO PLAY: First, read the list of words, then look at the puzzle. The words are found in all directions - vertically, horizontally, diagonally, backward. Circle each letter of a word found and strike it off the list. The letters are often used more than once so do not cross them out. It is best to find the big words first. When you find all the words listed in the clues you'll have a number of letters left over that spell out the WONDERWORD. To see the answer use the link below the puzzle.

Cerritos baseball stymied by pitching of Riverside Poly's Kian Polk in first round blowout loss

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

When the Cerritos High baseball team hosted Riverside Poly High last Friday in the CIF-Southern Section Division 3 first round playoffs, first-hear head coach Martin Rodriguez knew what the Bears were going to do. In 2019, the Dons hosted the Bears in the first round and lost a heartbreaking 3-1, nine-inning contest.

This time around, the game was put away early as Poly touched up junior pitcher Dylan Burton for six runs within the first three innings and routed the 605 League champions 10-0. Rodriguez went as far as to say he thought Poly would try to ambush his team early.

"We've been down before and have been able to muster rallies," said Rodriguez. "I thought their pitcher did an excellent job of controlling the pace of the game. As hard as we tried slowing it down, he did a better job of really controlling the pace."

In the bottom of the first inning, senior catcher Owen Gott, who will be playing at Concordia University, singled but was stranded there. In the bottom of the third inning, freshman second baseman Dalton Chi led off with a ground rule double and moved to third on a ground out from senior third baseman Ethan Vo. But sophomore right fielder Johan Gibbs lined out to pitcher Kian Polk, who threw to the third baseman to double up Chi.

One inning later, sophomore shortstop Carter Chi doubled and went to third on a ground out from junior first baseman Raymond Sierra and in the last inning, the Dons left runners in scoring position.

"We kept trying to put the pressure on them, and that has worked for us all year," Rodriguez said. "Unfortunately for us today, the balls that were being hit hard were being hit right at guys who were making plays there."

It was the worst loss of the season for the Dons, who finished at 22-6. The 605 League champions had shutout losses of 9-0 to Paraclete High and 4-0 to Valley Christian High earlier in the season.

"For me, I look at the lineup I had today," said Rodriguez. "When we started the game, we had a senior behind the plate and a senior at third and that's it. I had two freshmen in the lineup, three sophomores and four juniors. I am extremely excited in moving forward with the core group of players we have."

"I grabbed Dylan right now and just put my arm around him and said, 'this is going to sting, and you need to hold onto this feeling until next year, and when we get out of the box and we open with our traditional doubleheader at Valley Christian, you need to just let it all out and carry it with you'," he continued. "He understands all eyes are going to be on him as the starting pitcher [next year]. He's obviously going to get the loss for today. What's forgotten is how well he pitched for us throughout the year."

Rodriguez went on to say that he wasn't sure what to expect in his rookie season as a head coach, but he's proud of just every milestone the team had. Of the 28 games that the Dons played, 14 of them were against playoff teams, whether from the [CIF] L.A. City Section or the Southern Section.

"That's a lot, and to have the record we have against those teams, there were some really tough losses and some fantastic wins," Rodriguez said.

In other baseball action, Artesia High's dream season ended this past Tuesday as the Pioneers (15-12), fell to second-ranked Wiseburn-Da Vinci High 5-3 in a Division 7 second round game. In Division 1 action, seventh-ranked La Mirada High was blanked by 10th-ranked Harvard-Westlake High 9-0 to end its season at 22-7-1 while in Division 2 action, Gahr High (12-17) led Torrance High 4-0 heading into the bottom of the seventh inning before seeing the Tartars score five runs for the comeback win. And in Division 5 action, Norwalk High's season came to end with a 2-0 loss to Whittier Christian High last Thursday. The Lancers conclude the season at 14-13.

SOFTBALL

Artesia (10-13) dropped a 9-1 decision to Calvary Chapel Santa Ana High last Thursday in a Division 5 first round game while Cerritos (15-3) was doubled up by Heritage High 4-2 on the same day. After blanking Whittier Christian 1-0 in a Division 1 first round game, La Mirada (22-7) was blanked by third-ranked Roosevelt High 3-0 this past Tuesday.

SWIMMING

For the fourth time in school history, both Cerritos teams took home hardware as the boys won the Division 3 championship and the girls finished in second place to Flintridge Prep. The boys secured their sixth divisional championship, fourth since 2014 picking up 193 points in last Saturday's finals at the Marguerite Aquatics Complex in Mission Viejo. St. Francis High finished in second place with 173 points. Cerritos also won the Division IV championship in 2001 and 2002 and came in second place in 2008 and 2009.

Among the top performers were sophomore Kyle Ly winning the one meter diving competition with a Division 3 record score of 599.90 and the 200-yard medley relay team of seniors Chad Arceo, Parsa Hajipour and Jonathan Vet and junior Nathaniel D'Aloisio coming in fourth place with a time of 1:40.29.

Senior Gabriel Oliveira finished in third place in the 200-yard IM with a time of 1:54.78 and D'Aloisio was third in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 58.67.

The girls were nine points short of their fifth divisional championship as they picked up 181 points. It's the fourth time the girls have placed second, accomplishing the feat in 2005, 2006 and 2008. The girls have also won a divisional title in 2013, 2014 and 2016.

The 200-yard medley relay team of junior Sydney Romero, sophomore Calista Liu and freshmen Clemence Choy and Jasmine Koo finished in first with a time of 1:50.21. The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Koo, Liu, Romero and sophomore Cayla Oliveira came in

Gahr responds to mid game challenge, erupts for big fifth inning to defeat Westlake

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

When you're facing a hot-hitting team that batted .401 in the regular season and had eight starters eclipse the .340 batting average mark, you need all the motivation you can get to erase that from your mind. For the Gahr High softball team, which hosted Westlake High last Thursday in a CIF-Southern Section Division 1 first round game, it did not let a 1-0 deficit late in the game get to them.

The Gladiators, unranked in the division, erupted for seven runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and held on for a 7-3 victory. Coupled with a 7-5, eight-inning road game victory at La Serna High this past Tuesday, Gahr visited unranked Orange Lutheran High on May 12. The Lancers upset second-ranked Villa Park High this past Tuesday.

"First of all, that's a great team over there," said Gahr head coach Rey Sanchez. "They've got some great players and that pitcher is a good pitcher. That's a great team, so hat's off to them. Our at-bats weren't tough enough; we weren't tough enough early. And, when you're not competing from the onset, I think some swings and some pitches...they kind of let get to us a little bit, and I could see it in our girls' demeanor. We challenged them; the coaching staff challenged them a little bit."

Early on, Gahr (22-8) was stymied by the pitching of Kaitlyn Bartlow, who had allowed just two hits through the first four innings, neither of whom advanced to second. But it all fell apart with one out in the fifth. Junior left fielder Hailey Sanchez doubled to right field and Bartlow was replaced by Linden McCarl. She was greeted by a run-scoring single from sophomore shortstop Rio Mendez, who went to third on an error. A base hit from junior right fielder Sophia Magcale plated Mendez and after a sacrifice from sophomore catcher Larissa Flores, senior second baseman Mika Huskey's single brought in Magcale to make it 3-1.

Bartlow returned to the circle as senior catcher Breanna Lucero and sophomore center fielder Natalia Hill were pumping up the crowd. The energy worked as junior third baseman Hayley Olivas blasted a two-run home run over the left center fence.

"I think what really started that inning was when [Westlake] head coach [Bob Creamer] got fired up because of an il-

“Director Vasquez-Wilson called the sale an illegal activity and is calling on the community and law enforcement to investigate.”

VW is then seen on the screen with a fountain behind her sounding like she was in a bathroom; the first thirty seconds of her appearance was a campaign video.

“We’re here to call out the secret sale of the Central Basin building, very troubling very alarming, the general manager of Central Basin [Dr.] Alex Rojas has actually sold the building. The sale of the building has not been approved by the board, we were notified in January the building was sold.”

But documents obtained by HMG-CN contradict all of those allegations and, more alarming, VW was aware her statements were false.

The May 24, 2021 Board agenda contained a resolution under item 14 authorizing the sale of the building to a potential buyer. According to the minutes, VW was present and voted no on the sale, along with her crony board ally Martha Camacho-Rodriguez, but it passed by a majority vote.

An escrow was opened up with a potential buyer. The buyer had 90 days to perform due diligence, then another 30 days to close escrow.

On July 19, 2022, the agent sent a letter informing CB that the escrow fell through; CB returned the deposit.

The agent’s letter was included in Rojas’ Weekly Update to the Board, which all board members receive, including VW.

Despite the evidence, VW alleged on the video that “Rojas has been very secretive and refuses to provide any documentation on the sale of the building or even if it was paid for by the buyer that he claims to exist.”

Two weeks later, in Rojas’ August 6 Weekly Update, he informed the board that they would be executing the deal with the backup buyer, and the resolution would be included in the August 23 board meeting agenda for approval. VW received that update.

The resolution appeared as item number 18 on the board agenda and was approved on a six to one vote. VW once again voted no.

But on the video Vasquez stated, “Since then the community has been very concerned, calling for information on the terms and sale of the building, how much, where are we moving and who is purchasing the building.”

Alleging a Brown Act violation by Rojas, VW maliciously slandered Rojas stating, “ he has failed to follow the law he has refused to make disclosures, he is a disgusting and appalling person who is totally lawless.”

After the building was sold, the board held a closed meeting and reported out all terms of the sale including the selling price.

What Was She Thinking?

VW’s unfounded allegations are, and can only be explained by the fact that her husband, Ron Wilson, is a questionable attorney who always defends his litigious wife, forgoing expensive legal fees.

Wilson constantly abuses the “special appearance” substitute in court and does not charge his wife fees.

He did that during the defamation lawsuit he lost against HMG-CN, saving over $100,000 in legal fees, a lawsuit the presiding judge slammed.

Several emails into Vasquez-Wilson and her husband remain unanswered.

All documents can be found online at loscerritosnews.net

legal pitch that was called,” said Huskey. “That fired us up in the dugout, which I think also fired up [Hailey Sanchez] because we were all in it and we were all screaming. After that, the hits kept on stringing together and we kept scoring.”

“This girl is a rise ball pitcher,” said Rey Sanchez. “She had it going, and she was beating us early and we had prepared for that. I had talked to the team in the last two days of practice we had...we set up for rise balls. We were talking about staying committed to the ground and not rising up out of your legs and all and having that plate discipline.”

The inning continued with senior designated player Amanda Ta’amu doubling down the left field line, Bartlow walking sophomore pitcher Hayley Cortez and Hill to load the bases and Hailey Sanchez singling to center to wrap up Gahr’s scoring. The pitching change came somewhat as a surprise to many despite Bartlow having thrown 73 pitches before being replaced.

“At that point I was; I honestly was,” said the Gahr coach. “But obviously, that coach knows his players better. I was a little bit surprised because I thought that girl was doing a pretty good job. But I think he has enough trust in the lefty pitcher, who also is a very good pitcher.”

“Hayley has been our clutch hitter all year,” he later said of the home run. “She had two tough at-bats; they weren’t her best at-bats. She struck out looking and then got jammed. But this is what good hitters do. They make in-game adjustments, and that’s what Hayley did in that situation.”

But Westlake wasn’t about to go away that quickly. In the top of the sixth inning, Marian Elohim singled and Kaylee Clarkson homered over the right center fence. After that, Cortez settled down to retire five of the last six batters she faced and ended the game scattering seven hits while striking out two.

“Marley didn’t have enough pitches today,” said Rey Sanchez. “She struggled with some of her pitches, her changeup wasn’t close, and we’ve been trying to get that pitch down and she knows that. But the thing that Marley has is she’s got courage. She’s not afraid; she’ll get in there and she’s going to battle you no matter what. She’s been our girl all year long.”

“We have hitters on our team, and I don’t think we were really scared for them coming in knowing that their numbers were high, and knowing that they played good teams during league,” said Huskey. “I think the win against Warren put us in a good position here and it kept our energy going throughout this game.”

Flores, Huskey and Hailey Sanchez all had a pair of hits as the Gladiators, who won the San Gabriel Valley League, are in a familiar place from a few seasons back. The program reached the Division 1 championship game in 2018, advanced to the semifinals in 2015 and 2019 and the quarterfinals in 2016. Last season, Gahr went 14-7, finished in third place in the SGVL and was bounced out in the first round.

“I don’t know so much turnaround as...last year we did struggle a little bit in league and we lost a couple of games early,” said Rey Sanchez. “I love the fight that our girls came into this season with from the get-go. Early on, we were swinging the bats well and we had a lot of compliments from [other] teams who said, ‘hey, you guys are swinging the bats really well’. But for the most part, I’m just proud of these girls.”

“I think this year, we have much better team chemistry than last year because of Covid, we were all online and we would only see each other at practice during the week,” said Huskey. “But I think being back in school and seeing each other 24/7, literally, has brought us so much closer together.”

With a win over Orange Lutheran, the Gladiators would face either sixth-ranked Pacifica High or third-ranked Roosevelt High on Saturday in the semifinals.

roam the gardens, you will spy a pack of dogs, a fluffle of rabbits, a troop of monkeys, a swarm of butterflies and a pod of dolphins. Flamboyance features more than 100 topiary animals presented in six groupings throughout the Garden. The largest of these groupings is the life-sized flamingos filled with begonias.

Also part of the exhibit is a pair of beautiful, oversized butterfly wings; visitors can snap a photo in front the marvelous exhibit. You won’t be able to miss them, but just in case, they will be located in front of the SOAR, the Tropical Butterflies exhibit. And while Flamboyance is free with Garden admission, there is a separate fee and reservation needed for the butterfly pavilion.

Your SOAR journey begins as you step into the host and nectar garden for an up-close view of the butterfly habitat and the emergence of new species. A guided tour brings you into the main pavilion with new tropical butterflies.

Some areas of Flamboyance might be impassable for wheelchairs or those with mobility issues. A select amount of accessibility tickets are available on Saturdays that include a 20-minute golf cart ride to see the topiaries. Tickets must be booked in advance by calling Guest Services at 424-452-0920. Flamboyance runs at the Garden from May 1 through July 31.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.
NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <https://www.altisource.com/loginpage.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2022-00135-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.
NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855)-976-3916, or visit this internet website <https://tracker.auction.com/sb1079>, using the file number assigned to this case 2022-00135-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

 Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

Prime Tacos Opens in Norwalk

WELCOME: Norwalk Mayor Rick Ramirez and Councilwoman Margarita Rios with the owners of Taqueria El Cortez Prime Tacos at the ribbon cutting.

By Tammye McDuff

Norwalk officially welcomed Taqueria El Cortez Prime Tacos with a grand opening and ribbon cutting in April.

This is one of the best taquerias in the area. What sets this place apart from others is in the quality of the meat. They have "prime grade" tacos on the menu from cuts of short rib and rib eye. When you order "Prime" they literally pull the cut from the fridge and cook it on the spot, the wait time is minimal. Tacos come full of meat, add cilantro to go with their tasty salsa.

When you visit be sure to order the carne asada Mulita, carne asada, Al pastor with pineapple, tripa, lengua and prime rib eye tacos, this seems to be a customer favorite.

The customer service is excellent, but put your credit cards away. This establishment is cash only. Taqueria El Cortez Prime Tacos offers a Taco Tuesday every week and is located at 16220 Pioneer Boulevard in Norwalk.
