CAR SLAMS INTO TRANSFORMER KNOCKING OUT POWER ON LA PALMA/CERRITOS BORDER

An onlooker inspects the wreckage hours after the car slammed into a transformer near the La Palma/Cerritos border. Photo by Jim McMahon.

By Tammye McDuff

An out of control car hit a transformer this past week in La Palma causing a major fire and disrupting power for several blocks. The driver was pinned by the airbag and was electrocuted by the transformer.

Onlookers reported the smoke being far too long, with the chances of homes catching on fire from ricocheting sparks."

HMG-CN publisher Brian Hews called La Palma PD just minutes after McMahon sent an email about the crash, talked to a dispatcher who said, "Everyone is out on call, I cannot comment on the situation."

Hews later emailed the La Palma City

"I emailed asking why I could not get more information from the police, I have a large readership on social media, we could have helped get the word out. I got a call later from La Palma PD saying they would change their policy so the dispatcher can give out more information to the press."

CERRITOS OFFICE COMPLEX WILL BE SITE OF LARGE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT

By Brian Hews

Hews Media Group-Community News has learned that the office building located on the corner of Artesia and Shoemaker, the long-time home of the newspaper and several other businesses, was sold and will be converted into a gated community.

The purchase price was unknown, though sources told HMG-CN that the owner "could not refuse the offer." The buyers are MLC Holdings, Inc.

The office was slated for an earthquake retrofit and would have been shut down anyway, but when MLC Holdings heard about the project they made the offer.

OUTSPOKEN CALIFORNIA CHIEF JUSTICE GREETES LOCAL RESIDENTS

By Larry Caballero
On Politics

California State Assemblywoman Sharon Quirk-Silva, who represents North Orange County in the 65AD, held her third Breakfast Club meeting Oct. 27 to introduce the first Asian and only the second woman California Supreme Court Justice Tani Cantil-Sakauye.

The event was held at the Veterans Auditorium in Buena Park where Quirk-Silva shared Sacramento updates with local residents and thanked everyone for attending.

“I pledged to serve with a commitment to maintain an open and consistent dialogue with my constituents, and to that end I am once again hosting a Breakfast Club meeting for fellow community, local government, business and labor leaders in Orange County and the surrounding communities. This will allow us to have a first-hand perspective about the issues that are affecting our state.”

Chief Justice Sakauye was invited to share insights on what's happening in California, both interesting and timely.

She began by thanking more than 60 residents in attendance for their civic interest and engagement, and “for showing up at 7:30 in the morning to hear me. Usually I don’t see these many people so early in the morning unless they are forced to be there.”

Los Angeles Times reporter Maura Dolan wrote recently that “as California’s top judge, she has no problem speaking her mind, calling on the Trump administration to keep its immigration agents away from state courthouses, and giving a highly publicized address that reflected California’s concerns with the new president.”

Sakauye decided to confront immigration policy after reflecting on the 75th anniversary of the internment of Japanese Americans.

“There were voices that spoke out against internment but not enough,” she said.

Her husband’s parents were among the more than 120,000 Japanese Americans removed from their homes and sent to live in camps for four years without their possessions.

At the same time she was listening to her in-laws’ personal stories, she was hearing constant reports of anxious immigrants showing up in California courthouses — starting in January, when President Trump took office — with worries.

“They wanted to know, “How can I protect my kids if I am deported? If I obtain a restraining order against a violent boyfriend, will immigration authorities be tipped off to my existence? My children were born in this country — can they stay if I am deported?”

Though immigration is the purview of federal courts, Cantil-Sakauye said it was “fundamentally unfair” that some people lacked access to information.

The result was an online immigration resources directory on the state court website.

Dolan wrote that judges told Sakauye that immigration agents were going into courthouses, intimidating immigrants there to testify or to deal with other legal matters.

A reception room in a dependency court in Southern California cleared out after someone said there was an agent in the building. Some immigrants stopped sending their children to school.

“This was ongoing,” she said.

Cantil-Sakauye, mindful of a need to be impartial, did not want to appear to be critical of the law. She is a former prosecutor after all who put people in prison, and her husband is a retired police lieutenant.

In a letter to U.S. Atty. Gen. Jeff Sessions and former Homeland Security Secretary John Kelly, she asked that immigration agents stop “stalking” immigrants here illegally at California’s courthouses.

“Courthouses should not be used as bait in the necessary enforcement of our country’s immigration laws,” she wrote.

The chief justices of Oregon, Washington and New Jersey later endorsed her stance.

She called Trump’s criticism of federal judges “very threatening to the third branch of government.”

Her views received national coverage, and Sessions and Kelly admonished her in a letter for using the word “stalking,” and told her to take her concerns to Gov. Jerry Brown.

“I think they intended to scold me,” she said, “but I have been in law for more than 30 years, and I am used to being scolded.”

The Washington Post declared that

Cantil-Sakauye was “fast emerging as one of the Trump administration’s most vocal critics in the judiciary” — a description she said made her “uncomfortable.”

She received an ugly message on her voicemail and threatening emails, which she reported to the California Highway Patrol, the agency in charge of her protection.

Still, she continued to speak out.

Dolan wrote that in her annual state of the judiciary address to the Legislature in March, Sakauye warned that the rule of law was being threatened and should not be taken for granted. Though she never uttered the name Trump, most observers thought it was about him.

“The rule of law means that we as a people are governed by laws and rules, not by a monarch,” she said.

She no longer hears of immigration agents lurking in courthouses, she said, “but I just don’t know if they are simply regrouping and re-planning.”

The justices have sided with environmentalists, open-government advocates and workers in some cases, deferred to the Legislature and the governor in others and upheld most, but not all, death penalty cases.

Sakauye has served on the Supreme Court since 2011, when she was nominated by Governor Schwarzenegger, and is part of the judicial branch “that is a co-equal branch of government.”

More than 6,000 pieces of legislation were passed last year and signed by Governor Brown, “and each piece has to come before the courts before it can become law to ensure that it is constitutional.”

She said the California judicial branch is the largest and most diverse in the world with more than 2,000 judges representing about 39 million Californians, and it does this with limited resources.

The California Supreme Court consists of seven judges, who cannot hear all cases, and usually concentrate on murder and conflict cases, as well as those that will have a significant impact on society.

“Yet we’re not policy makers or politicians,” Sakauye said. “We are neutral.”

As Chief Justice, she wears three hats: she is first among equals who assigns cases and manages and supports the court; the presiding judge on the California Judicial Council that hears complaints about the courts and addresses civic initiatives.

Although immigration is a federal issue, Sakauye and her colleagues initiated the immigration resource directory website that consists of information and resources that include location of immigration offices, attorneys and law schools that provide services.

Don’t forget, everything you read in the newspaper either is in or will be in Court.”

fer to buy.

The office complex has been located at Artesia and Shoemaker since the nineties and was home to many diverse businesses including Artesia resident Dave DeKriek’s Fidelity Hearing Center.

The Cerritos Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing at a special meeting on Wednesday, November 15, 2017 at 7:00 p.m. at Cerritos Council Chambers, the public is encouraged to attend and comment on the project.

MLC Holdings, Inc. proposes to demolish the four existing two-story commercial office buildings and construct a new gated single-family residential development.

The massive development will be comprised of twenty-nine two-story detached residences featuring “enhanced architectural detailing in a variety of traditional architectural styles.”

The size of each detached residence is unknown at this time.

The proposed development will include a parkway and onsite landscaping improvements, passive open space areas, a decorative gated entry, open space amenities, interior private streets, and related improvements.

HMG-CN and other businesses in the building have been given a move-out date of Feb. 1, 2017. As it stands right now, about 80% of the tenants have already moved out.

LONG BEACH TRANSIT TO PURCHASE CLEAN AIR ENGINES

Long Beach Transit (LBT), a leading transportation agency in the use of clean air technology, announced today that it received a $600,000 grant from the Mobile Source Air Pollution Reduction Review Committee (MSRC) of the South Coast Air Quality Management District Near Zero Incentive Program for the purchase of 40 “near zero” compressed natural gas (CNG) engines. The engines are upgrades to a recent bus procurement as the “near zero” engines were not available when the purchase was authorized in 2016.

The buses will be equipped with the Cummins Westport 8.9 liter engine that is certified by the California Air Resources Board and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to meet or exceed optional and more stringent near zero standards.

LBT has a long history of using innovative technologies to promote clean air in its service area that includes 13 cities and 100 square miles. When diesel buses were standard throughout the industry, LBT was an early adopter of particulate traps to prevent harmful matter from escaping from the exhaust. In the mid-2000s, LBT was an innovator when it began to step away from diesel and purchased gasoline-hybrid buses. In 2012, LBT purchased its first CNG buses. In March, the transit agency began battery-electric bus service on its Passport Route.

Annual boarding customers in Long Beach, Lakewood and Signal Hill—as well as portions of Artesia, Bellflower, Carson, Cerritos, Compton, Hawaiian Gardens, Los Alamitos, Norwalk, and Paramount and Seal Beach. Water taxi services via AquaBus and AquaLink are available spring through fall. For more information visit, www.lbtransit.com.

LET’S RETURN ARMIN REYES TO ABC

Hello, my name is Armin.

My wife Lilibelle and I believe ABC Unified is the best school district for all of our children. Our son Ian and daughter Julia both graduated from Cerritos High. Our son Michael is currently a junior at Cerritos High.

For 16 years I served you on the ABC School Board (1999-2015). I worked very hard to help make ABC one of the top districts in the nation - earning a record number of California Distinguished School and National Blue Ribbon School awards during this time.

Today, as an Army Reservist Lieutenant Colonel, I serve as the commander of a chemical battalion. I am a veteran of Iraq and Afghanistan. For 30 years I have served our nation in the Active Army, Army Reserve and California National Guard.

ABC needs strong, decisive, and fiscally prudent leadership. I am uniquely prepared for the challenges ahead to make ABC even better for generations to come. I respectfully ask for your vote by mail today.

HMG-CN ENDORSES ARMIN REYES AND OLGA RIOS FOR ABCUSD

Hews Media Group-Community Newspaper strongly endorses Armin Reyes and Olga Rios for ABCUSD Trustee Areas 3 and 6 respectively in next week’s election.

Reyes has the experience, 16 years as a Board Member, and also has broad based support unmatched by any other candidate; Reyes was simply out of position when the ABCUSD moved to district voting and had to "yield" to Johnson.

He is endorsed by the ABCFT, the local AFSCME, ABCUSD Board Clerk Letty Mendoza, and Board Members Maynard Law and Olympia Chen.

Reyes is also endorsed by Treasurer John Chiang, State Senator Tony Mendoza, former Superintendent Gary Smuts, and many other local politicians including Cerritos Mayor pro tem Mark Pulido, Councilman Frank Yokoyama, and Planning Commissioner Jennifer Hong.

Area 3 incumbent Lynda Johnson just brings too much political baggage and controversy to the table as witnessed by her lack of endorsements by the ABCFT and AFSCME.

In addition, none of her Board colleagues have endorsed her.

Johnson seems more concerned about her position with Supervisor Janice Hahn than she is with her ABCUSD Trustee seat.

She also worked hard to obtain questionable endorsements from every old school politician in Cerritos.

And, instead of attending the Los Angeles Democratic Party’s endorsement meeting a few weeks ago, Johnson went to the Cerritos Republican Club meeting.

Maybe Johnson attended because she had already secured the endorsements of Don Knabe, Bruce Barrows, Carol Chen, Barry Rabbitt, George Ray, and Chuong Vo.

Johnson rarely gets along with her colleagues, as witnessed by her lack of Board endorsements, and only cares about the district when it is politically expedient.

Case in point, in one of the most important votes in ABCUSD history, Johnson was against a much-needed infrastructure bond two years ago. Johnson is in now “in favor” of a second proposed Facilities Bond, but the delay will cost the district matching funds.

Fierro and Nishii are bright, intelligent, and passionate individuals who have run good campaigns. There are other concerns, but the fact that they also attended the same Republican Club meeting with Johnson versus attending the Los Angeles Democratic Party’s endorsement meeting was a red flag HMG-CN cannot ignore.

Area 6 candidate Olga Rios is ready for prime-time. A Harvard graduate and a Ph.D. from USC, Rios has a recent graduate and a child in the ABC system. Rios has worked for the Bellflower Unified District for over 16 years, currently as a middle school principle.

Rios, like Reyes, boasts a broad range of support, endorsed by the California Federation of Teachers, Los Angeles County Democratic Party, the ABCFT, the local AFSCME, and ABCUSD Board Clerk Letty Mendoza.

Rios is also endorsed by State Senator Tony Mendoza, Speaker of the Assembly Anthony Rendon, Cerritos Mayor Grace Hu, and Councilman Frank Yokoyama.

Area 6 candidate Louise Dodsen has not run an effective campaign. Ms. Dodsen has an impressive, but very short, list of endorsements, which is evidence of a lack of any broad based support to get things done at ABCUSD.

HMG-CN urges you to vote for Armin Reyes and Olga Rios, but whatever your preference, please exercise your right to vote on November 7.

Letters to the Editor

Re: May Co. Macy's 65th Anniversary
Dear Editor:

Personally, remember this mall as small child, we used to go there a lot, the parking traffic was horrendous, it was bumper-to-bumper traffic because this was the only mall, besides shopping downtown Long Beach and also going to Huntington Park shopping in the downtown area. There were no other shopping centers. So the congestion was heavy in this area.

Also remember a few other key important stores, adjacent Woolworths next door, think it also had a basement, and then there was Butler Brothers at the far end of the mall, and I think that also had a small basement. Basements were avenues for the community to vacate to in case there was war times: Vietnam War and the Korean War plus the Cuban disturbance.

Across the street from the May Co., sat Park Chevrolet. Remember when we went to Lakewood mall, we would always drive Southbound on Lakewood Boulevard towards Long Beach Airport, as there was a tunnel bridge under the airport, built for a fallout shelter, and we enjoyed honking the car horns underneath the bridge & driving over and over thru the Long Beach Traffic Circle . That was a lot of fun and a freebie when you're a small toddler.

May Company had a unique credit card system, they were very small aluminum tags and that was being used to run the credit charges with carbon paper & no computers, operators had to telephone in charges or look for charges in large paper reference books.

Woolworth's had great ice cream floats at the counter , and the adjacent Sav-On had fantastic ice cream cones for a nickel. Also, Harris n Frank clothiers. Latter is the post development, Bullocks was developed along the south side, was a spinoff from Bullocks Wilshire, today is Home Depot etc. Buffums sat south on the mall, on PCH. Tahitian Village sat north of the LW Mall.

Adjacent neighborhood homes to Lakewood Mall were built in late 40's and early 50's for approximately $10K each., sm. 5,000 Sq Ft lots. Some floor plans had attached garages, stainless steel kitchen counter tops and first ever, portable dishwashers which hooked in to the kitchen sinks, some had exterior garbage pails and others had backyard concrete incinerator's.

Back in the 50's- 60's, May Company and the Lakewood mall had very extensive usage of small display windows on the exterior of each store, because it was an outdoor mall it was not enclosed mall like today. Many of the windows were redressed weekly, and they also had contest who could have the best designed display window. I won a contest one Thanksgiving for a display window. My prize was a free turkey. Plus a coupon for a free pie at Marie Calender's.

CERRITOS RESIDENTS RECEIVE HONORS

By Larry Caballero

More than 700 Democratic Party activists and community leaders and officials attended the 2017 annual Franklin & Eleanor Roosevelt Awards Dinner Oct. 29, hosted by the Los Angeles County Democratic Party (LCDP), at the Los Angeles Sheraton Hotel.

Two Cerritos residents—Katherine George Chu and Anantha Ramachandran received honors for their community volunteerism and activism, and are members of the Hubert Humphrey Democratic Club.

Supervisor Janice Hahn recently appointed Chu to the Los Angeles County Commission on Disabilities.

In 2013, she was awarded Woman of the Year for the City of Cerritos, by Assemblywoman Cristina Garcia, for her community advocacy and her work with the Special Olympics.

Ramachandran grew up in a political household. His father is a labor leader and his mother is a civic activist. His first political experience was working for his mother’s political party in India, and then with President Obama’s campaign in Florida. He recently ran for Cerritos City Council as a LCDP endorsed candidate.

LCDP Chair Mark Gonzalez welcomed everyone to the event and said, “There is much change happening throughout Los Angeles, California, and the nation. Everyone around the globe is sick and tired of the GOP’s disastrous and divisive tactics, and we are looking for something to look toward for hope.

Every person being recognized tonight is what represents that big blue beacon of hope.”

Gonzales stressed the importance of equal access to quality healthcare, good, high-paying union labor, “and working together to guarantee that bigotry, racism, xenophobia, and hate of all kinds do not continue to stake their claim inside the halls of the House, Senate and the White House.”

United States Senator Dianne Feinstein said, “Donald Trump and the Republican Congress threaten our progress on many fronts, from immigration, health care and women’s rights to voting rights, LGBT rights, and environmental protection.

As the top Democrat on the Judiciary Committee, as a senior member of the Appropriations Committee, and as a longtime member of the Intelligence Committee, I am in a unique position to take on those fights for you and for California.”

All four major Democratic candidates for Governor next year attended the event including State Treasurer John Chiang, former State Superintendent of Public Instruction Delaine Eastin, Lt. Governor Gavin Newsom and former Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa. They all echoed the same sentiments of continuing to make a California a sanctuary for all of our residents.

Heights have long worried that these intersections are dangerous to themselves and their children. We are installing new signals at four intersections to both help with traffic congestion and make these intersections safer for the motorists and bicyclists who use these streets as well as the pedestrians who cross them.”

New signals will be installed at Santa Gertrudes Avenue and Silvergrove Drive on the boundary of the City of La Mirada and unincorporated East La Mirada, and at Leffingwell Road at Arroyo Drive where the City of La Mirada meets unincorporated South Whittier. Old signals will be replaced at the intersection of Colima Road at Leffingwell Road in unincorporated South Whittier. The fourth project, at the intersection of Hacienda Boulevard and Newton Street in unincorporated Hacienda Heights, will include replacement of old traffic signals, high-visibility crosswalks, pedestrian countdown signals, curb ramps, and ADA-compliant push buttons.

The City of La Mirada provided $420,000 for the two projects that share County jurisdiction. The remaining costs are financed by the Federal Highway Safety Improvement Program, through County road funds.

Today’s Board approval begins the construction contract bidding process. Work on installing the traffic improvements should commence in June and be completed by September 2018.

City Manager Jeff Boynton told the Lamplighter, "The City of La Mirada appreciates the partnership with Supervisor

Hahn and the County of Los Angeles to enhance traffic circulation in La Mirada and neighboring communities. The safety of motorists and pedestrians is a top priority, and these traffic signal projects will further our efforts to enhance safety for the motor-ing public."

ADDITIONAL LA MIRADA IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS DUE TO MEASURE I FUNDING

Progress towards neighborhood infrastructure improvements continues throughout La Mirada. Phase 3 is nearing completion in neighborhoods located in the southeast area of La Mirada. Construction of Phase 4 recently began and is projected to be completed by late spring 2018. This phase includes the neighborhoods north of Rosecrans Avenue, south of Alicante Road, and east of Biola Avenue to the east City limit. Some areas south of Rosecrans are also included, as a pipeline replacement project by Suburban Water Systems has been completed. The work includes new street pavement, replacement of damaged curb, gutter and sidewalk, and installation of curb access ramps. Residents in the area will receive advance notice of construction activities.

The design work for Phase 5 is also now underway. Construction of Phase 5 will begin in summer 2018. This phase includes the neighborhood streets bound-ed by Imperial Highway, Biola Avenue, Stage Road, Valley View Avenue, and Milan Creek. These neighborhood improvements are funded by La Mirada voter-approved Measure I.

who was fired after HMG-CN published the exposé.

The audit outlines findings regarding MUSD’s financial practices, performance, and related issues concluding that an intervention is necessary by the County Superintendent.

The report stated that the MUSD Board “failed to take appropriate action to contain increasing costs in the face of declining enrollment and continually ignored warnings from its oversight agency that repeatedly urged the district to curtail deficit spending.”

The report also slammed MUSD for failing to consistently follow its hiring processes and by employing individuals as deductibles, coinsurance and copayments that seniors with Medicare coverage are expected to pay out-of-pocket. People who join Medicare for the first time are guaranteed access to Medigap policies, no matter what their health status is, only for a limited time. Afterward, they can be denied coverage based on their health in most states.

Parsing Costs

There’s a widespread perception that Medicare Advantage plans cost less than traditional Medicare. But actual costs depend on an individual’s circumstances and aren’t always easy to calculate.

Seniors often first consider what they’ll pay in monthly premiums. This year, the average monthly premium for Medicare Advantage plans is $30, almost $2 below last year’s. But nearly half of Medicare members are enrolled in plans that don’t charge a monthly premium — so-called zero premium plans. (Seniors also need to pay Medicare Part B premiums, although some Medicare Advantage plans cover some or all of that charge.)

ACCIDENT

Homes were without electricity so Southern California Edison brought in mobile generators throughout the affected area. The generators cost $100,000, require a full-time security guard and will likely be there for at least one week.

One day later residents were informed they would be without power for at least another twenty-four hours. According to an SCE spokesperson, they would have to rewire the entire area from Denni Street to the Del Amo bridge, install a new pole, install temporary lights, replace the destroyed telephone equipment and repair any external damage to homes, fences and public areas.

The damage is already estimated at $400,000.

As of Halloween night the neighborhoods were still without power. These areas have been target by burglaries lately; residents are concerned with some feeling out and out afraid. Local Sheriff’s were called out to assist with trick-or-treaters; and be on the lookout for suspicious activity. Residents stated the traffic was bumper to bumper.

HMG-CN received an update from SCE on November 1st saying that generators were operating well and the area has temporary electricity.

Some residents reported that telephone service was back up. Many residents have checked into hotels until everything is fixed.

to extraneous high-paying positions.

“MUSD failed to follow its processes for advertising job postings and conducting performance reviews for eight of the ten individuals the audit reviewed, most of them occupying high-ranking positions.”

The audit also faulted MUSD for hiring employees into positions for which they did not meet the minimum qualifications, including one high-ranking position, Rojas, responsible for overseeing MUSD’s $300 million budget.

The audit also called out MUSD for improper oversight of millions of dollars in bonds funds.

“The district also failed to ensure that it’s employees did not have conflicts of interest when they approved expenditures and contracts related to the bond funds,” accusing the MUSD of wasting public resources.”

To get a full picture of plan costs, which can vary annually, seniors should look beyond premiums to drug expenses (including which drugs are covered by their plan, at what level and with what restrictions) ; deductibles (plans can charge deductibles for both medical services and drugs) ; what plans charge for hospital care (some have daily copayments for the first week or so) ; and coinsurance rates for services such as home health care or skilled nursing care, experts said.

“It’s really critical that folks dip deep and find out about all possible costs they may incur in a plan before they sign up for it,” said Chris Reeg, director of Ohio’s Senior Health Insurance Information Program. (Every state has a program of this kind; find one near you at <https://www.shiptacenter.org>.)

“Part of the equation has to be what you’ll have to pay if you need lots of care,” said David Lipschutz, senior policy attorney at the Center for Medicare Advocacy “In our experience, that’s often more than people expected.”

Since 2011, Medicare Advantage plans have limited members’ annual out-of-pocket costs to no more than $6,700 — a form of financial protection. There is no similar limit in traditional Medicare. Yet,

Vendors may include Perfectly Posh, Party Lite, The COCO Exchange, Simply Scarves, Pampered Chef, Origami Owl, Tastefully Simple, DoTerra, Hotel Life 1600 Sheets, Aloette, Bottle Lights

The report calls for significant change if MUSD is to avoid financial insolvency.

“The Los Angeles County Superintendent should take immediate actions to reverse MUSD’s current trajectory, such as helping MUSD justify its work force size and costs compared to its enrollment projections.”

It also called for MUSD to get its financial house in order and stop wasting public resources.

One of the instances of wasting public resources will have MUSD parents up in arms.

In May 2016, Montebello purchased 200 computers. The auditors could not locate 13 computers, 162 computers were unopened in a warehouse for more than a year, and the remaining 25 computers were unboxed in a classroom not being used.

protection isn’t complete since out-of-pocket limits don’t apply to drug costs, which can be considerable. (In PPOs, a cap of $10,000 limits costs for services received from out-of-network providers as well.)

Plans have discretion in setting out-of-pocket limits. In 2018, 43 percent of plans will have out-of-pocket limits exceeding $6,000; 31 percent will set limits between $4,000 and $6,000; 20 percent will have limits between $3,000 and $4,000; and 6 percent will set limits beneath $3,000, according to a new Avalere Health analysis.

Finding A Doctor

One way that Medicare Advantage plans try to control costs and coordinate care is by working with a limited group of physicians and hospitals. But reliable information about these networks is hard to find and published directories often contain mistaken or out-of-date information.

“It’s not easy to determine who’s in-network for a Medicare Advantage plan,” said Fred Riccardi, director of client services at the Medicare Rights Center. “This information isn’t on Medicare’s website and there’s no one, streamlined way to search for information about provider networks across plans.” His advice to consumers: Call all your doctors to ask if

The audit reviewed credit card purchases where employees failed to provide the required receipts for their charges, including payments to PayPal, Domino’s Pizza, Target, and Amazon.

The audit stated that overtime payments more than doubled from physical 2013-14 through 2015-16 because the district failed to monitor employee overtime.

One Montebello employee received $84,000 in overtime, essentially doubling their salary.

The audit called for corrective actions to include MUSD submitting a corrective action plan, revising its physical stabilization plan, and change hiring policies.

It was also recommended that the bond oversight committee should meet more than once per year.

they’re participating in a plan you’re considering. (Make sure you have your plan number when you do, because a single company may offer multiple plans in your market.)

Making matters even more difficult: Plans can drop physicians or hospitals from their networks during the year, leaving members without access to trusted sources of care.

A new report discloses data about the size of Medicare Advantage plans’ physician networks for the first time. It finds that, on average, Medicare Advantage HMOs included 42 percent of physicians in a county in their networks while PPOs included 57 percent. Altogether, 35 percent of Medicare Advantage members are in plans with narrow physician networks, which tend to be the cheapest plans.

Although this data highlights the choices that seniors have with regard to physicians, it doesn’t speak to the wait time they may encounter in accessing care, Jacobson said, adding that, to her knowledge, this kind of information about Medicare Advantage plans is not publicly available.

DATA TICKET, INC. TO PROCESS CITY’S PARKING CITATIONS

The City of Cerritos recently entered into a one-year agreement with Data Ticket, Inc., for processing all parking citations issued by the City’s Parking Enforcement Detail.

In July, Data Ticket Inc., which currently processes code-enforcement violations for Cerritos, purchased Judicial Data Systems, Inc., which had processed parking citations for the City since 1983. The acquisition required the City to enter into a service contract with Data Ticket to ensure uninterrupted citations processing. The City incurs no increased costs in this transition.

Data Ticket employs an automated, wireless and internet-based system, which speeds up the citations processing. Cerritos Parking Enforcement Officers will be able to use handheld devices, which is expected to eliminate errors due to incomplete data or illegible penmanship. With Data Ticket, motorists can also pay for the parking citation or file appeals online. The new system is expected to be in place by the end of October.

WEEK 9 FOOTBALL : ARTESIA STAYS ALIVE FOR POSSIBLE POSTSEASON BID IN HIGH-SCORING AFFAIR WITH CERRITOS

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

The only thing missing from Artesia High’s homecoming football game against Cerritos High last Friday night was the scoreboard at Atkins Stadium missing a bulb or two. Who could blame the school if that had happened after the performance that the Pioneers showcased.

Artesia lit up the scoreboard for a school-record 87 points and in the process, kept its postseason dreams alive in an 87-32 rout over the Dons. The game featured a little bit of everything-back to back kickoff returns for touchdowns following a 17-yard score from Artesia senior running back Xavier Yoakum, all in a span of 33.6 seconds late in the first half. A pair of 20-yard punt returns for touchdowns by Artesia senior lineman Isaiah Cardenas, a 30-yard pick six by Artesia junior linebacker Leroy Gladden early in the fourth quarter and 517 yards on the ground by the Pioneers, just to name a few. Artesia would score on all nine offensive possessions it had.

When the Madden-like game had concluded, Artesia first-year head coach Don Olmstead called it a rarity, one that he had never been a part of in person.

“No, but then also you don’t expect to score 35 points on special teams,” Olmstead said. “So, that’s what I told [Cerritos head coach] Barry [Thomas after the game]. I told him, ‘I’m sorry Barry’. It’s kind of one of those things where we’re trying to put guys in and that’s just how it works out. But I knew we had to score points. I knew they would score because they’re good offensively. They can play.” “Don’s a good guy; I know that,”

Thomas said. “They couldn’t stop scoring. They just couldn’t. What are you going to do? Tell the kids to go halfway. I knew that going in. They did what they could.”

It’s the first time the Pioneers had scored more than 60 points in a game since defeating the Dons 61-13 on Oct. 10, 2008. It’s the widest margin of victory for the Pioneers since blasting John Glenn High 51-0 on Nov. 4, 2005 and conversely, the largest margin of defeat by the Dons since being blanked by La Mirada High 76-0 almost two years ago. Artesia, which has won seven straight against the Dons, now moves to 13-7 against its ABC Unified School District rivals in the past 20 seasons. This was, by the way, the final meeting for both as Suburban League members.

Artesia wasted little time getting the onslaught started as junior quarterback Heder Gladden scored on a 39-yard run just two plays into the contest. The hosts had a chance to increase the margin, but an 85-yard punt return by junior running back Travys Davis was called back because of offsetting personal foul infractions. But Gladden still made it 14-0 with an eight-yard score almost midway through the stanza.

The first of Cardenas’ punt returns came 90 second later before the Dons (1-8 overall, 0-5 in league) got on the board. Playing with a short field, sophomore wide receiver Jayden Alderete hauled in a 29-yard pass from senior quarterback Colby Nielsen. The Pioneers extended their lead by 10 points after a 38-yard field goal from senior Sergio Ramos and the second Cardenas punt return, all within the first 2:37 of the second quarter.

The see-saw affair went back to Cerritos when Nielsen connected with sophomore wide receiver Stacy King, making it 31-12. But Yoakum scored the first of his three touchdowns on a 28-yard run with 3:26 left in the half. Two plays later, Nielsen launched a 40-yard scoring play to senior wide receiver Christian King and just like that, Cerritos was down by 20 points at 38-18.

By halftime, a 52-26 Artesia advantage, the Pioneers (4-5, 2-3) had 320 yards on the ground and had the ball for 11:06. Cerritos, on the other hand, couldn’t generate much on the ground with seven carries. But Nielsen was 14 of 23 for 167 yards and three scores. It would be completely different over the next 24 minutes.

“Offensively, yeah, I like some of the things that we did,” Thomas said. “The drops are still there; we left some points on the board, I think. But it didn’t matter; we didn’t stop them at all. They just had too much for us. Everybody runs the ball on us.”

“We’ve got some guys who can play,” Olmstead said. “We’ve got some guys with ability and it’s just spreading the ball out and not being predictable. We put a couple of wrinkles in every week and the guys respond to it pretty well and run it well. And our O-Line; I have to give our O-line credit. Without those five guys up front...the skilled guys aren’t who they are without anybody in front of them.”

Cerritos began the second half on an 11-play drive that took three and a half minutes. But Nielsen was picked off by Yoakum at the Artesia 23-yard line and the Pioneers turned that into a Yoakum one-yard run over two minutes later. Nielsen was then sacked on fourth and 11 from the Artesia 44-yard line and three plays later, senior backup quarterback Stanley Monis made it 66-26 with a 30-yard touchdown run.

Nielsen would cut into Artesia’s big lead when he threw a 23-yard pass to Stacy King with 23.9 seconds left in the third quarter. But two plays into the final quarter, Davis scored from 15 yards out, followed by Leroy Gladden’s 30-yard interception return for a touchdown 59 seconds later.

The scoring ended when Artesia senior safety Greg Soto intercepted Nielsen at the Artesia 48-yard line and returned it 27 yards. Two plays later, sophomore Anthony Soto went in from 28 yards.

“That’s the risk that always happens when you have good athletes,” Olmstead said of the high scoring tilt. “Anyone of them at any moment can take the ball and be gone. We have the luxury of having some guys on our team, but they have some too.”

“It’s just tough,” Thomas said of his team’s rush defense. “The kids are playing their best with what they’ve got. We lost a lot of size with Josh Cruz and [Matt] Fernandez from last year. So, that was tough. I wasn’t expecting for the backup corps to be this shaky. But, we have to work with what we have.”

Yoakum led everyone with 165 yards on 13 carries while Heder Gladden added 158 yards on 13 carries and Davis another 105 yards on seven touches. On defense, the Pioneers were led by Yoakum (eight tackles) and Leroy Gladden (two sacks).

“Their offense is very similar to ours and their quarterback can throw a little bit,” Olmstead said. “That was the biggest concern, just getting into an air attack with them where we ground and pound and try to score on the ground and throw a little bit here and there. But they can score equally as fast through the air. So, it was kind of managing that and making sure it didn’t get into too big of a shootout.”

The Pioneers will travel to Norwalk High tonight with third place and an automatic postseason bid possibly on the line. Situated in California Interscholastic Federation-Southern Section’s Division 12, there are 45 teams and it’s more than likely there won’t be any at-large spots open, according to Olmstead. Artesia would need to win and hope that the CIF-SS committee sees that the team played a favorable non-league schedule plus the strength of the league. A win by Norwalk would kill any playoff chances.

“We just have to be physical up front,” Olmstead said of Norwalk. “Year in and year out, the teams that we have trouble with are the teams who are physical up front; the La Mirada’s, the Mayfair’s, the Norwalk’s. We don’t have to be more physical. We just have to be equal to them. If we can match their physicality up front,

I think we have a chance.”

Nielsen ended the game 27 of 50 for 313 yards and four touchdowns, but three interceptions. Senior wide receiver Eric Baker caught eight passes for 70 yards while Christian King was the recipient of six passes for 89 yards. Junior running back Tye Anderson gained 53 yards on 12 carries and on defense, senior safety Ryder Eddy had seven tackles while senior linebacker Darius Blue pitched in with half a dozen more.

“He put in the work,” Thomas said of Eddy. “I don’t know what else to say about him. I can speak for hours about Ryder. He’s a leader. In the offseason, his work ethic is infectious to other people.

He made sure that Tye was putting in the work. It’s one thing to prop yourself up and do your own work. It’s another thing to grab a teammate and say, ‘no, we’re going to maximize your ability’. That’s why Tye is so hard to bring down, because he made Tye work.”

The Dons will wrap up the season at Bellflower High tonight, hoping to pick up their first league win and second overall.

“I would like to see us continue to fight,” Thomas said. “I don’t want to see us roll over. I want to see what our true character is. There’s nothing to play for except pride.”

CIF-SOUTHERN SECTION DIVISION 4 GIRLS VOLLEYBALL PLAYOFFS
VALLEY CHRISTIAN PLAYS NO TRICKS BUT GETS A TREAT, SWEEPS GAHR IN FIRST ROUND

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

When the Valley Christian High girls volleyball team met Gahr High before the regular season began, it was a time for both teams to get acclimated with their respective squads to see what they have for the upcoming season. It would only be fitting that the two schools, located a half mile from each other, would be reacquainted in the first round of the California Interscholastic Federation-Southern Section Division 4 playoffs this past Tuesday night.

This time, it was for real and the host Lady Crusaders had little problems in sweeping the Lady Gladiators 25-11, 25-18, 25-15. V.C., which visited third seeded Santa Monica High on Nov. 2, improved to 21-7 overall while Gahr concludes the season at 8-13. In fact, from what V.C. head coach Jeff Ornee remembered back in August, he was worried about Gahr’s athleticism.

“We knew Gahr was a pretty good offensive team, so our game plan going in was to try to serve them off the court,” Ornee said. “If they couldn’t get a good pass, they weren’t going to be able to run their good offense. So, I really think we accomplished that in the first game.

“We kind of just saw each other for a little bit of what we had starting, and it’s nice to meet them at the end of the season to see how far they’ve come,” he later added. “They’ve come a long way as a team and I think we have as well.”

It was serving that would propel V.C. to the easy win in the first set as junior opposite hitter Candice Palmer served six straight points to make it a 10-2 contest. Later in the set, senior setter Megan Lim served four straight points with an ace at the back line after three straight kills from junior outside hitter Aubrey Schwieger to make it 19-5. Gahr head coach Iris Najera must have known it was going to be a long night as she called her second and last timeout of the set when it was 10-2.

“The second timeout was to refocus on our fundamentals and game plan,” Najera said. “At that early in the game, I believed we could regain momentum and control of the game if we executed the small plays and kept our errors to a minimum.”

The Lady Gladiators would gain some momentum in the second set rallying from a 4-0 deficit to take a 12-9 lead after an ace from sophomore middle blocker Mariah Iosua. Gahr was still up by two points before V.C. senior libero Hannah Buckley had her first kill, then served four consecutive points to put her team in front to stay. Later in the set and up 20-17, the Lady Crusaders made sure Gahr wouldn’t have a late surge as Lim served two straight points to make it a six-point lead.

In the third set, the Lady Gladiators would gain another three-point lead, their largest of the match, at 9-6. But V.C. senior outside hitter Madison Holmes, who led everyone with 19 kills, had one of them, giving the serving chores to Lim. From there, Lim had three straight aces and would serve five more points as the hosts rebuilt the momentum it had from the very beginning. Following a kill from senior opposite hitter Jackie Dixon, Schwieger put the set and match away with her 13th kill, plus three straight aces and four more points. V.C. would serve 15 aces as opposed to five from Gahr.

“That’s been our game plan all year long,” Ornee said. “We want to be the best serving team in our league. That’s been my motto all year, that’s been the girl’s motto. We don’t have the tallest team, we don’t have the most athletic team. But we’ve been working on our serve every day in practice and I think it showed out there tonight that we’re a really tough serving team.”

“We had control in set two and three, then Valley Christian dis an excellent job serving tough,” Najera said. “My team did their best to move quickly and adjust to fast paced serves, but it was difficult for our team to run our offense.”

V.C. would collect 13 kills in the third set, all by Holmes or Schwieger, and the two of them combined for all but 10 kills the team would get.

“They’ve carried the offensive load for us all year and I think every team coming in against us knows that and they still can’t really stop us,” Ornee said.

Gahr was led by junior middle blocker Olanna Olumba and Dixon (six kills each) and junior middle blocker Nneoma Izima and Iosua (five kills each). The rest of the team combined for five kills. The Lady Gladiators figure to be back stronger next season as Ayala, Dixon and setter Julianna Carvajal are the only seniors.

“Our three seniors will be missed, and they left their mark at Gahr,” Najera said. “Carissa with her consistency, Jackie with her versatility and Julie with her leadership. I am sad that the season is over so soon, but I am confident we learned so much from this season, and the seniors will apply their lessons to their next step and the underclassmen will be stronger because of the lessons from this season. We will be working this offseason.”

FOOTBALL TO PLAY FINAL REGULAR SEASON GAMES WHILE PLAYOFF UNDERWAY IN OTHER FALL SPORTS

By Loren Kopff
@LorenKopff on Twitter

The end of the regular season in football is tonight, except for Gahr High, which hosted Downey High on Nov. 2, with two teams locked into a California Interscholastic Federation-Southern Section divisional playoff spot and one more up for grabs. The winner of the Gahr/Downey game will secure second place in the San Gabriel Valley League. Meanwhile, the playoffs began this past Tuesday for girls tennis, girls volleyball and boys water polo.

FOOTBALL

Artesia High (4-5 overall, 2-3 in the Suburban League) @ Norwalk High (6-3, 3-2)-This will be for third place, but it may not be enough for the visitors should they come away with a win. Both teams are coming off resounding wins over Cerritos High with the Pioneers scoring a record 87 points last Friday night in a 55-point victory while the Lancers pounded the Dons 69-6 on Oct. 19. Both teams love to run and run at will. Artesia has three players-senior running back Xavier Yoakum, junior running back Travys Davis and junior quarterback Heder Gladden-who have all rushed for at least 550 yards. Norwalk, which has been ranked as high as seventh in the Division 9 polls, has half a dozen players with over 100 yards on the ground. Norwalk has won eight straight games in the series. This will be the last league meeting between the teams.

Bellflower High (3-6, 1-4) @ Cerritos High (1-8, 0-5)-The Dons posted a season-high 32 points last Friday against Artesia, giving them 114 for the season. Unlike most of the league, Cerritos is a passing team and will rely on senior quarterback Colby Nielsen to distribute the ball to senior wide receiver Eric Baker and sophomore wide receiver Jayden Alderete, among others. The Dons are also playing in their final league game and has fallen to the Buccaneers six straight times. Bellflower has scored 136 points, so scoring will either be at a premium, or both teams will light up the scoreboard.

John Glenn High (5-4, 2-3) @ Mayfair High (8-1, 5-0)-Even an upset against the Monsoons, ranked third in Division 9, won’t send the Eagles to the Division 13 playoffs. Of Glenn’s three league losses, two have come by a total of nine points.

No matter what, this will be Glenn’s best season since 2009 when the Eagles went 5-5. It will also be Glenn’s last game in the league. Junior quarterback David Sanchez has passed for over 1,700 yards.

Valley Christian High (7-2, 2-0 in the Olympic League) @ Heritage Christian High (8-0, 2-0)-The league title is on the line as both teams could very well score in the 50s or 60s. V.C. has averaged close to 45 points a game while the Warriors have scored at least 48 points in their past four games. The difference in this game will be on the defensive side as the Crusaders have given up 174 points while its opponent has yielded 144 points. V.C. is ranked fifth in Division 8 while H.C. is eighth in Division 11. V.C. has won eight in a row and 12 out of 13 in this series.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Cerritos, which finished second in the Suburban League, posted a 25-12, 25-27, 25-18, 25-9 win against Santa Ynez High and visited Diamond Bar High on Nov. 2 in Division 5 action. The seventh-ranked Lady Dons are 16-7 and a win will send the team to a home quarterfinal match against Rim of the World High or second-ranked St. Pail High.

Norwalk dropped a 25-7, 25-11, 25-8 match to Vista Mar to end its season at 15-11. The Lady Lancers were third in the league. Whitney High, the fourth place team out of the Academy League, lost to Schurr High 25-14, 25-11, 25-11 and concludes its season at 6-20.

GIRLS TENNIS

Cerritos, the league champions once again, fell to Pasadena Poly High in games after the Division 3 match ended in a 9-9 tie. Gahr defeated Burroughs High out of Ridgecrest 10-8 in a Division 4 wild card match and in Division 5 action, Valley Christian lost to Segerstrom High 13-5 in a wild card match.

BOYS WATER POLO

Cerritos knocked off JSerra High 15-4 and visited second-ranked Redondo High on Nov. 2 in Division 4 action.
