For many of the 42 million Americans with obesity, weight loss medications such as Wegovy, Saxenda, and the brand-

Mobile Vietnam Wall Memorial Coming to Pico Rivera in May 2024

The Mobile Wall is maintained by volunteers and is the only wall on the West Coast.

By Brian Hews

The Mobile Vietnam Memorial Wall [AV Wall], a half-scaled replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington D.C., will be making its way to Pico Rivera next spring.

The AV Wall is a grassroots effort conceived and built by citizens of Antelope Valley and was dedicated in 2009. It is engraved with the names of 58,300 men and women who gave their lives or remained missing during the Vietnam War.

Since its dedication on November 9, 2009, the AV Wall has been displayed in numerous cities throughout Southern California.

The AV Wall is maintained and traveled by an all-volunteer organization. It is one of only five traveling walls in the United States and the only one on the West Coast.

Beginning on Friday, May 24, through Monday, May 27, 2024, the AV Wall will be on display in Pico Rivera at Smith Park. An Opening Ceremony is planned for the public to attend on Friday, May 24, with a Candlelight Ceremony scheduled for the evening of Saturday, May 25.

Access to the AV Wall will be free and available to the community for 24 hours daily until the AV Wall closes on Monday, May 27.

"This is an incredible opportunity for our community, especially our Veteran community," said City Manager Steve Carmona. "We are honored and privileged to have this Mobile Wall on display in our City."

Those with a family member on the wall are invited to carry their family member's panel and put it in place on The Wall as part of the Gold Star Family "In Memory of" program. If an immediate family member is interested in participating in the City's ceremonies and would like to register to receive certificates and pins from the Department of Defense, please submit the following information via email to Project Lead Staff - Kristin Baca at kbaca@pico-rivera.org, no lat-

John F. Kennedy Exhibit on S.S. Lane Victory Extended

PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY display onboard the S.S. Lane Victory museum ship in San Pedro. The exhibit runs until Jan. 27. Courtesy of Barrie Getz, Curator, Lane Victory.

By Brian Hews

An exhibit commemorating President John F. Kennedy on the SS Lane Victory, a floating museum in San Pedro, has been extended through Jan. 27.

Campaign items, photographs and video was put on display early November 2023 in memory of the 60-year anniversary of the former president's assassination on Nov. 22, 1963.

It was originally scheduled to close on Saturday January 13, but the display proved so popular throughout the holiday season that they extended it, said curator Barrie Getz.

The exhibit is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays on the Lane Victory, the historic Merchant Marine ship docked at Berth 52 located at 2400 Miner St., in San Pedro's Outer Harbor at the Port of Los Angeles.

The nonprofit museum ship is one of only three Victory ships from the World War II era. It also served during the Korean War and Vietnam War. T he ship, built in 1945, also served during times of peace as part of the merchant fleet.

Volunteer veterans salvaged it and it now serves as a memorial docked in San Pedro.

An ongoing effort is underway to raise funds for work that volunteer supporters hope will serve to relaunch the nonprofit memorial ship's recreational sails to Catalina Island.

The ship also needs dry dock service, another expense for which donations are being collected.

The ship also needs additional volunteers, especially those with Navy ship experience and knowledge.

For information, go to the ship's website at lanevictory.org.

Supervisor Hahn Participates in 'Polar Bear' Swim Event

BRRRR: A few hundred brave souls were joined by Supervisor Janice Hahn at Cabrillo Beach's New Years Day Polar Bear Swim. This year the water was a balmy 56 degrees, "but at least it was sunny," said Hahn.

Staff Report

Supervisor Janice Hahn braved the cold water and participated in Cabrillo Beach's Polar Bear Swim on New Year's Day

Cabrillo Beach has had a New Year's Day Swim as far back as can be remembered under the names of King Neptune, King Nautilus and many others. It was led by the members of the Department of Parks and Recreation and local lifeguards.

In 1953, John Olguin and Jack Cheaney started the Cabrillo Beach Polar Bears. The Polar Bears were an informal gathering of individuals that would meet in October and November and elect a King and Queen from the many daily beach enthusiasts at a beach party held for that purpose.

Each year, the King comes ashore in a boat and leads the crowd back into the water at 12 o'clock noon.

Trump Lawyers: Trump Can Murder if He Ducks Impeachment LCCN OP-ED

Trump lawyers argued this past Tuesday that if the President of the United States orders the assassination of a politician or anyone for that matter, the POTUS can only be prosecuted if they are found guilty of impeachment in the House and convicted in the Senate.

An impeachment prerequisite of a murder ordered by the POTUS; we all know how fast government works, look how long it took to impeach Trump.

Here is a former president saying to the court that they can order the murder of somebody, and as long as they avoid getting impeached and convicted, they can't be prosecuted.

Of course, there are many ways a president can avoid impeachment; two examples would be resigning right after the murder or, worse, killing adversaries in the Senate to avoid getting convicted.

Trump's argument is the definition of preposterous.

The judge panel logically slammed Trump's lawyers for proposing their argument, asking that if POTUS used Seal Team Six under his authority as Commander in Chief to kill a rival, would he be immune from prosecution?

Trump lawyer's answered "a qualified yes."

But then the judges turned around and asked the government attorneys a crucial question caused solely by Trump's litigation, "in the future, what does the immune rule look like? Would POTUS be liable for everything while in office?"

The government lawyers argued correctly that "judges don't have to decide that question for all time, you can carve a situation out, you can say that there might be some immunity in particular questions, for instance when POTUS relies on his lawyers to launch a drone strike."

Then, the government lawyers went one step further; they referenced an Amicus brief where a group of conservative lawyers argued that Trump's case could simply be decided as a matter of the Executive Vesting Clause of the Constitution.

Amicus means "friend-of-the-court; they are briefs written by individuals or groups who are not directly involved in a legal case but have expertise or insight to offer a court to assist in making its decision.

The Executive Vesting Clause states that there is a governmental interest in ensuring that, following each election, the control of the White House is passed on to the election winner.

The lawyers argued that in Trump's case, where a former president interferes with the Executive Vesting Clause, as Trump did during the January 6 insurrection, he is no longer immune from prosecution.

Most any United States citizen would think that was logical.

The argument allows the courts to fashion a rule that deals with Trump's preposterous case without totally binding courts in the future.

More importantly, it is an argument that SCOTUS could use when Trump (inevitably) appeals his case whom this newspaper thinks will rule unanimously against Trump.

Regardless, all of us need to step out of the legal world and ask, "When can a president have immunity to crimes?" Never, no one is above the law.

Southern California Filipino Journalists Form New Press Cub

LOS ANGELES - A group of seasoned Filipino journalists and news photographers have formed a new media group to help professionalize the Filipino-American media industry in their efforts to serve the information needs of the Filipino community.

The Philippine Global Media Group, Inc. "Filipinos play a very important role in the US and in other countries all over the world, and it is paramount that the Filipino media professionals come together and help inform their countrymen in the global diaspora of news developments in their respective communities and in our homeland, the Philippines," Abelgas said.

"By sharing a common goal of rallying fellow Filipinos to play an even more pro-active role in their communities, Filipino journalists can help improve the image of Filipinos before the world and, at the same time, support the Philippines' development goals," he added.

The showcase ended the night with performances by Gaines, Scott Wood from "The Four Jokers", Kelli Rabke, Anthony Bernasconi and a song and tap dance experience to represent the "Born on the 4th of July" event.

The performances spanned about five minutes for each act and brightened the serious mood for the night.

Gaines offered a robust performance as he interacted with the audience and brought some light humor to the stage, along with a voice that filled the auditorium with very little help from the microphone.

Woods brought to the stage a comedy set as he used vulgar and adult humor to lighten the mood. Despite some vulgarities, Woods stated that "The Four Jokers" show will be suitable for all audiences.

Rabke returned to the La Mirada stage with one song as she performed a heartfelt rendition of "Memory". With a striking resemblance to Bublé, Bernasconi sang two beautiful songs that brought much excitement for his Bublé tribute show. The tap dance and song performance introducing the "Born on the 4th of July" event was exquisite and got the audience clapping along to the rhythm.

Dr. Setty and his care team did thier surgeries at the Sri Sathya Sai Sanjeevani Medical Centre in Fiji alongside a multi-disciplinary volunteer team that came from all around the world.

"With the help of the excellent care team, all of whom came from different backgrounds to work extraordinarily together, we were able to provide children with the care they deserve and give them the opportunity to live long and healthy lives," said Dr. Setty.

Each surgery ranged from complex to severe treatment and were all performed

Los Nietos SD Earns Golden Bell For Cyber Security Program

Los Nietos School District won the prestigious Golden Bell Award for its Los Nietos Middle School STEAM Academy Cyber Security Program. The program launched six years ago and now partners with Rio Hondo College and the Whittier Union High School District. The program trains students in essential cybersecurity skills such as coding and operating systems, critical thinking and problem-solving, and vital collaboration and communication abilities. The most remarkable aspect is that any 7th or 8th-grade student interested in STEM can participate. Moreover, the program has inspired students to explore STEM careers, leading to higher academic achievement and attendance rates and fewer disciplinary incidents for its participants.

by Dr. Setty.

Assisting Dr. Setty was his cardiac operating room team including Sandy Tolentino, RN, Nancy Renteria, surgery technician, and Mabel Gomez, RN II, .

"The intensity of the environment we were in could be exhausting at times, especially with the amount of heart surgeries we were doing, but we wanted to help out as many patients as we could," said Renteria.

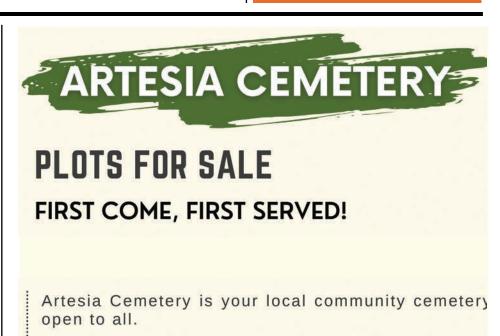

The Sri Sathya Sai Sanjeevani Medical Centre in Suva, Fiji is a fully functional hospital for these children, but the disposables needed had to be pre-ordered from around the world in these challenging post-pandemic times where things like oxygenators for heart and lung machine are difficult to come by. This ensured they could provide the best advanced treatment for all pediatric surgical procedures while maintaining a safe and sterile environment.

the drugs have been one barrier, and costs of up to $1,300 monthly – the price tag without insurance coverage - are another hurdle

But 2024 may be a much brighter year, thanks to Lilly's new portal as well as other developments:

Insurance coverage on private health plans, while still spotty, may be improving. Legislators are fighting a 2003 law that forbids Medicare from paying for the medications when prescribed for obesity.

New research found that semaglutide (Wegovy) can reduce the risk of recurrent strokes and heart attacks as well as deaths from cardiovascular events in those with obesity and preexisting cardiovascular disease, a finding experts said should get the attention of health insurers.

The medications, also referred to as Costs vary, depending on coverage, a 1-month or 3-month supply for someone with commercial insurance coverage could be as little as $25 a month; those with an insurance plan that does not cover the drug could pay $550 per month.

Some obesity experts welcomed the new service. "Any program that improves availability and affordability of these ground-breaking medications is welcome news for our long-suffering patients," said Louis Aronne, MD, director of the Comprehensive Weight Control Center at Weill Cornell Medicine in New York City, a long-time obesity researcher.

The study results are a "big deal," Aronne said. The results make it clear that those with obesity but not diabetes will get the cardiovascular benefits from the treatment as well. While more analysis is necessary, he said the important point is that the study showed that reducing body weight is linked to improvement in critical health outcomes.

GLP-1 agonists, work by activating the receptors of hormones that are naturally released after eating. That, in turn, makes you feel more full, leading to weight loss of up to 22% for some.

The medications are approved for those with a body mass index (BMI) of 30 or a BMI of 27 with at least one other weight-related health condition such as high blood pressure or high cholesterol. The medicines, injected weekly or more often, are prescribed along with advice about a reduced-calorie diet and increased physical activity.

Eli Lilly launched its direct-to-patient portal on Thursday, providing its obesity medicine direct to the consumer.

Patients can access the obesity medicines through the telehealth platform FORM. Patients reach independent telehealth providers, according to Lilly, who can complement a patient's current doctor or be an alternative to in-patient care in some cases.

Insurance Coverage

Coverage of medications could nearly double in 2024; according to a survey 25% of respondents said they currently offered coverage, 43% said they intend to offer coverage in 2024. Others are fighting for Medicare coverage; a bipartisan bill, the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2023, would allow coverage under Medicare's prescription drug benefit. Long-Term Picture

Research suggests the obesity medications must be taken continuously, at least for most people, to maintain the weight loss. "The majority will have to take these on a chronic basis obesity, like high blood pressure and other chronic conditions, needs continuous treatment," Aronne said. "No one would suggest withdrawing blood pressure medications that stabilize blood pressure; the same should be true for the obesity drugs."

605 LEAGUE BOYS BASKETBALL

PEMA'S CLUTCH FOURTH QUARTER SHOTS HELP CERRITOS EDGE ARTESIA IN PHYSICAL BATTLE

By Loren Kopff @LorenKopff on X

Since the inception of 605 League at the beginning of the 2018-2019 school year, the road to the boys basketball league title has gone through either Artesia High (the last two seasons) or Cerritos High (the first three seasons). The two league powers met for the first time this season last Friday night in front of a raucous crowd on Alumni Night at Cerritos.

There was an abundance of shots taken, there was a lot of rebounding and there was more than enough physical play to go around. But more importantly, there was a fourth quarter rally by the Dons that enabled the hosts to hold a temporary upper hand on the league as they got past the Pioneers 50-47.

"We just have to play; we can't make the game bigger than it was," said Cerritos head coach Jonathan Watanabe. "We came out and made this like the Super Bowl, and it's just a game. We're trying to get nine [more] wins, and today was our number two. We just have to make sure we keep things in perspective. And it's just a game."

Those who played and those who were in attendance would agree that the game would have been much different had it not been for an injury to Artesia senior Zion Staples. Just 23 seconds into the contest, Staples blocked a shot, which was rebounded by senior Joshua Martinez. However, Staples landed hard on the court, first on his back, then his head. After he was attended to for several minutes, Staples left the game and would sit out the rest of the half.

"Zion is a big, strong kid, but obviously we were worried about him," said Artesia head coach Jeff Myles. "If he wasn't able to play, we wouldn't have played him. We checked him out, sat him out the first half. I think he was more scared about himself; he's never fell that hard before. But again, that was him making a play on the ball."

"I'm just glad he's okay, because that was a scary fall," said Watanabe. "I'm glad he was able to come back and play because we want everyone to be healthy. Gosh, if we've learned anything this year, it's scary. Stuff like that happens, and it's scary."

> Artesia would not take its first shot until the 6:04 mark of the game and the game's first points did not happen until junior Jaylen Reed sank two free throws with 4:40 left in the quarter to give the Pioneers the lead. Meanwhile, the Dons missed their first eight shots and did not score until junior Jaylen

Barsana nailed a three-pointer a little over a minute after Reed opened the scoring.

Even without Staples, the Pioneers never trailed in the first quarter, though the game remained a one-possession affair. The lead would extend to six points early in the second quarter before the Dons began to pick up their game. With 5:13 remaining in the half, a three-pointer from junior Nathan Ju began a 10-0 run that lasted nearly three minutes. The Dons, who attempted 18 shots from beyond the arc in the half, would see junior Benson Cho and senior Luke Rigor hit trifectas in the final 1:56 as they would lead 26-23 at the half.

Artesia was eight of 24 from the field in the half, but Martinez was saddled with three fouls, all coming in the second quarter. Cerritos also made eight baskets from the field but attempted four more shots. The difference was in the threepoint category where the Dons were true six times while the visitors connected on half of that.

"As far as the first half, I think our guys were more nervous at first when [Zion] went out," said Myles. "We couldn't score for a while. But a couple of plays later, another guy kind of got hurt, too. It made us really thin, but we kept it within three. I think we played hard."

"Obviously, it's sad that he was hurt and had to stay out in the first half," said Cerritos senior Shay Pema of Staples. "But I think in the first half, we were able to do what we needed to and be able to play strong in the beginning, which would set us up for the second half."

The pendulum swung back in Artesia's favor in the third quarter, which went on a 12-3 run over the first six and half minutes to regain its second six-point advantage. Staples would be a force, grabbing five of his six rebounds in the stanza on the offensive end and scoring five points. All six points from Cerritos came from senior Osinachi Agaranna.

"I think it shows to go as the team who we are that even in the lowest moment, that we'll still come together and push through and do what needs to be done to make sure that we secure the win and get back from last year," said Pema.

"We couldn't hit a shot," said Watanabe. "So, we were just relying on our defense. Our defense kept us in the game. That's what we hang our hats on. We have

CERRITOS GIRLS BASKETBALL EMPTIES THE BENCH, SHOWS NO MERCY AGAINST ARTESIA

By Loren Kopff @LorenKopff on X

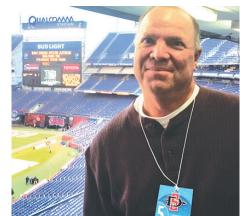

When a high school basketball team can nearly empty its bench in the first quarter, you know the game most likely will finish with the running clock utilized in the fourth quarter. That was the case when the Cerritos High girls basketball team hosted Artesia High last Friday.

Cerritos outscored the Pioneers 17-4 in the first quarter, then went on a 21-0 run over the final 6:25 of the second quarter and cruised to a 69-18 victory. It was the 24th straight win for the Dons over Artesia with the last four decided by at least 50 points. "I think, most teams...when you get the opportunity to have multiple players play, you never know what's going to happen in the future, playoff-wise, or even in league," said Cerritos head coach Marcus Chinen. "You have to have someone that can step up and fill that spot. Just because we [have] 16 girls, we don't want to say, 'X amount get to play and the others don't'. We want everyone to get that experience because we never know. At any time, their number may be called." Held to two points in the opening quarter, senior Oneyka Nwanze scored 11 in the second quarter and six more in the third quarter. She was the game's leading scorer and the only one to score in double figures. She also had a team-high six rebounds, along with senior Mia Rivera, who was one of four Cerritos players to score seven points. Rivera's points came in the second quarter, and she also had six of the team's 20 assists.

"She's the one that's going to get our motor going," said Chinen. "She's the one who is going to have to facilitate the court. She's got to survey the court; she's going to have to play tough defense. We're going to expect a lot from her moving forward. We have [some] big games coming up where we're going to rely on her to play smart, both offensively and defensively." Tuesday to drop to 9-8 overall, 1-2 in the 605 League. Ixta again led the way with eight points, 13 rebounds and two assists. Artesia will host Pioneer High and Oxford Academy on Wednesday.

Junior Kishan Saberon and sophomore Cameron Lacorte also scored seven points each and senior Mailee Dizon had four steals against the Pioneers as Cerritos (11-8, 3-0) then defeated Pioneer 68-52 this past Tuesday and will travel to John Glenn High on Friday, face Sonora High on Saturday in the third of four games in the Matson Classic at Orange Lutheran High before hosting Whitney on Wednesday. At one point, the Dons were 5-1, then 6-3 before losing to North Torrance High and all three pool play games of the Southern California Holiday Prep Classic in San Diego.

Of the 16 players on the team, two are freshmen-Kalana Nguyen and Jordin Pulley. The former was another one who scored seven points, all coming in the opening stanza, including a three-pointer.

"The key is being patient," said Chinen. "We have that cycle, so the girls will sit, and they'll watch and learn and then we start plugging them in as the season goes along. When that happens, we want them to be ready for the playoffs."

Cerritos was up 45-7 and after Artesia senior Maya Reamer began the second half with a steal and basket before the Dons went on a 12-0 run. Not once did the Pioneers score consecutive points. They were led by Reamer (eight points, four rebounds), freshman Kimberly Ixta (eight rebounds), three steals), senior Arianne Delgado (five rebounds) and freshman Jasmine Ramirez (four rebounds). Artesia fell to Whitney High 87-21 this past "I think we learned a lot," said Chinen. "I believe team bonding-wise, the team bonded well. They learned from each other, and they learned from what each and every one can do on the court and why they bring to the team off the court."

GIRLS BASKETBALL

WHITNEY ENDS ROLLER COASTER WEEK WITH AN UNEXPECTED EASY WIN OVER BISHOP AMAT

By Loren Kopff @LorenKopff on X

The Whitney High girls basketball team began the first week of January with a solid 58-45 win at Pioneer High to open 605 League play. It was just the third win over the Titans in 10 league contests and the first on Pioneer's court as a member of the league.

Two days later the Wildcats blasted John Glenn High by 56 points for their seventh straight win over the Eagles. Whitney was then hoping to get a better game out of visiting Bishop Amat High last Saturday, but instead, had another relatively easy victory. The 'Cats built a 22-7 first quarter lead over the Lancers and cruised to a 68-31 win in a matinee affair.

"It's actually been a good week," said Whitney head coach Myron Jacobs. "Again, me as a coach, I don't like playing the John Glenn's. I respect the program, but they're just not there, talent-wise. But the Pioneer game...I said last year I would like to open my season against those harder teams to get them out of the way. Today, we played Bishop Amat and we thought they were going to be solid. They were solid last year, but unfortunately, they were missing their big who was on the bench with a torn ACL."

Bishop Amat had a brief 3-2 lead within the first minute before sophomore Mady Macaraeg scored consecutive baskets and Whitney wouldn't trail again. A basket from Asia Bailey made it 8-5 with 5:30 left in the opening quarter before the hosts went on a 10-0 lead. Senior Kylie Wang was off and running to what would be another stellar game in her great high school career, scoring 10 points, grabbing five rebounds, blocking one shot and collecting a teal just in the first quarter alone. Her sister, junior Haylie Wang, scored half a dozen points and had three boards in the second quarter with an assist while freshman Alyssa So had a two-pointer and a three-pointer as Whitney built its lead to 35-15 by halftime.

"I think the first quarter was just let's run them," said Jacobs. "We felt like we were in better shape; no point in running the offense. People have been scouting us the last three days, and today we really didn't run our offense."

Any chance the Lancers had to creep back into the contest were dashed away in the third quarter when Whitney's defense continued to apply more pressure. So scored off a steal to begin the second half as part of a 15-0 run. Bishop Amat didn't score until there were 15 seconds left in the stanza. That was the beginning of an 8-0 run that was followed has scored at least 10 points in a dozen games. finally, having one of her better games of the season was Macaraeg, who chipped in with 12 points, grabbed eight rebounds and had three steals.

"I think this was Mady's second best by 12 straight points by the Wildcats, including three-pointers from Haylie Wang and senior Alyssa Troung.

Haylie Wang led everyone with 19 points with eight rebounds, six assists and two steals while Kylie Wang had 18 points, 17 rebounds, four assists and three steals. So provided 14 more points and through the first 18 games, game," said Jacobs. "She had a double-double against Pioneer. I think Mady is going to unlock her full potential when Kylie leaves. I think that's when you're going to see more of the Mady and Haylie show. But she still does her part and is an elite player that's growing every year and every game. She's understanding that the role gets bigger as she goes and grows in high school."

This past Tuesday, the Wildcats crushed Artesia High 87-21 with Macaraeg leading the way with 18 points, six rebounds and three steals, followed by Kylie Wang's 16 points, eight rebounds, four blocks, four steals and three assists. So and Haylie Wang each scored 15 points and junior Rachel Moyher came off the bench to add a season-high nine points.

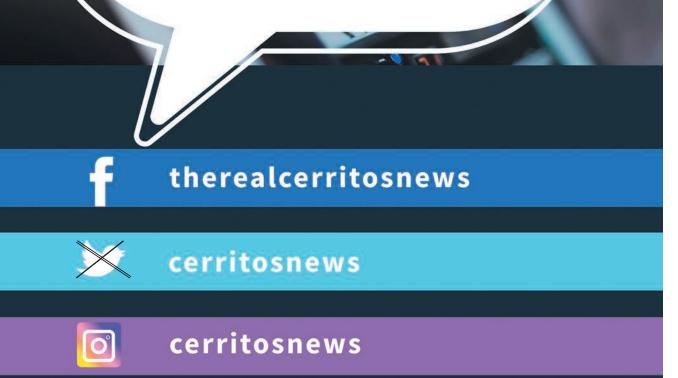

Whitney improved to 14-5 overall and 3-0 in the league as it is beginning to get its groove back after going 1-3 in the NIKE Tournament of Champions from Dec. 18-21. That was part of a 3-5 stretch for the 'Cats after beginning the season with seven straight wins.

"I think that prepared us because of the height," said Jacobs of the tournament. "We don't have the biggest team, so Arizona prepared us because it humbled us. I said we were on vacation, and we weren't playing. [It brought us back to] reality here and understanding that we have business that we have to take care of."

Whitney will visit Oxford Academy on Friday, face Sonora High on Saturday in the Matson Classic at Orange Lutheran High then go to Cerritos High on Wednesday in a battle for first place to conclude the first round of league play.

Sup. of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond Issues Statement on Newsom's Proposed 2024–25 Education Budget

SACRAMENTO—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond Wednesday issued the following statement in response to Governor Gavin Newsom's proposed education budget for fiscal year 2024–25:

I am grateful to Governor Newsom that there are no major reductions or pullbacks in vital education programs. By preserving our Educator Workforce Investments, Community Schools Investments, and Learning Recovery Investments, we ensure that our students, families, and educators have what they need to improve literacy, math proficiency, and social-emotional wellness. We are pleased to see the Proposition 98 guarantee slightly up from its projected value but disappointed in the Average Daily Attendance decline, with COLA at 0.76 percent when it was projected to be at 3.5 percent.

This budget also preserves every child's access to foundational resources such as school nutrition and early learning. California students will continue to have universal school meals. I sponsored the legislation to establish universal school meals and led this implementation effort because I personally know the impact of childhood hunger. Even as we tighten our belts in a tough budget year, we refuse to return to the days when children went hungry at school simply due to missing paperwork or a lack of lunch money. We must show moral clarity about the resources our children need to learn, grow, and thrive, and this budget reflects that clarity.

This budget also reflects continued investment in my strategic initiatives to improve quality instruction, especially in foundational academic skills and especially for our earliest learners.

I sponsored the legislation for Universal Transitional Kindergarten because I recognize how important it is that our youngest learners have access to high-quality early learning, especially as we work to close equity gaps in early literacy.

I also want to celebrate our ongoing investment of $25 million for literacy screening. I have led the charge to provide universal screening for dyslexia throughout California's public schools so that every child who needs support for this common learning disability is identified and receives resources.

I am also grateful to see the onetime investment of $20 million from Proposition 98 to support subject matter expert work in math. I have championed professional development for teachers because I know that it is one of the smartest investments we can make in our school system. We must ensure that teachers have the training that they need to provide high-quality instruction in foundational skills like math and literacy. We must close equity gaps in mathematics achievement to ensure that all of California's young people can see a future for themselves in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) and other high-growth fields.

This budget also reflects future-focused investments in our school operations, including $500 million for zero-emission school buses. Combined, this investment package reflects our determination to strengthen public schools across the state and to prepare all of our youth for success in an increasingly connected and changing world.

to defend, and he have to trust that we're going to hit shots when we need them."

After going one of five from the field and scoring four points through the first three quarters, Pema nearly took control of the fourth quarter, and it began with a three-pointer 51 seconds into the stanza to tie the game at 35-35. Then with five minutes left in the game, Pema again tied the game at 41-41. A half a minute later, senior Tobenna Ozoagu gave Cerritos the lead for good.

"We were waiting for him to start hitting some shots," said Watanabe of Pema. "I don't know what took him so long. But we have a lot of good pieces. I want to point out, [junior] Nathan Dawit came up huge for us on both ends of the floor. But he was able to defend and use his athleticism to defend a rebound and then he knocked down some big shots on [our] end. He was huge tonight."

Probably the dagger in the heart came with 1:41 left in the game when Dawit took a pass from Ozoagu and drained a three-pointer as the shot clock buzzer sounded. That put the black and gold up 47-41. Although a basket from Staples made it 48-47 with less than a half minute left in the game, Pema iced the victory with a pair of free throws with five and a half seconds left.

"Honestly, I don't know where the game swung," said Myles. "I have to go back and watch the film. But it's their home court; it's a Friday night. I've been here five years at the helm and every time I've been here, we play them on a Friday night at their place, it's always a great place to play. They made shots; I think they made a big shot at the buzzer [with the shot clock expiring]. I think one of their transfer kids [Dawit] made a big shot. We know if Zion would have played [in the first half], things might have been different."

Cerritos attempted 56 shots from the field, but was 10 of 41 from three-point territory with Cho, Dawit and Pema combining to go six of 16 from long range. Meanwhile, the Pioneers were 18 of 55 from the field and connected on one trifecta in the second half.

"Our shooters are going to shoot it, and we're going to trust that percentages will play in our favor," said Watanabe. "But we've given certain players the green light to shoot it when they're open."

"That's the game of basketball," said Myles. "That's how the game was going down; there were a lot of shots. It doesn't matter if you're 10 of 100. It's a matter of when you make them, and they made some timely ones. I don't care if they shot 10 of 1,000. They made the big ones when they counted, and hat's off to them.

"We still have a chance to split for the league title, which will be okay," he continued. "We still have all our goals in front of us. So, we'll see."

Staples led the Pioneers with a dozen points and grabbed nine rebounds while Martinez added 11 points and six boards. Reed also had a solid game with seven points and three rebounds as Artesia out-rebounded Cerritos 41-33. Nine of 10 Artesia players had at least one rebound and all but two scored.

"A couple of weeks ago we went to Florida, and it was really aggressive out there, and our guys kind of got used to that [style of] play," said Myles. "We're still trying to adjust back to the California style where [the officials] call a lot of the hand checks. Out there they didn't, so Josh kind of had a couple of ticky-tack ones. I thought he stepped up when Zion wasn't there, grabbed some rebounds and kind of kept the game within striking distance and made a big shot in the second half."

Pema led the Dons with 12 points and six rebounds while Agaranna and Cho added nine and seven points respectively, with five and three rebounds respectively.

"I think this one was a step forward," said Pema. "We still need to beat them [at their place]; we still need to play them one more time to make sure we secure our league championship. This was just the beginning for us.

"Normally, we like to take the shots that we have and that are open," he later said. "Since they were playing a zone and they were keeping us out, keeping us open from the outside, we know what our capabilities are and how we're able to shoot three-pointers and make that basket. So, we just continued to shoot from the outside and do what we knew we could do."

The win ended a brief four-game winning streak by Artesia over the Dons. Before that, Cerritos had won 17 straight contests over the Pioneers. Last season, the Pioneers defeated the Dons by 11 and 31 points, respectively. This was the first meeting between the schools which was decided by less than 10 points since Apr. 20, 2021, also a Cerritos 50-47 victory.

"We're trying to get nine [more wins]," said Watanabe. "All we play for are championships. That's it. That's the only reason why I came back, is we're coming here to play for a championship. We needed nine wins, and this was just number two. It doesn't matter who they're against. But this is number two, so we need eight more.

"In this 605 League, there have been 15 championships-freshmen, [junior varsity], varsity-and we've won 12 of them," he continued. "Our goal is to win 15 of the 18; win all three levels, because we dominate this league. We took a step back last year. But we've won 12 of the 15 and Artesia has three. So, we're trying to make sure we get to 15 and keep them at three. It's not just about the varsity level. It's about developing the players at the lower levels. We're trying to win the freshmen, the j.v. and the varsity. Last year we only won the j.v. and that's not good enough for us. We need to win at all three levels."

Artesia (10-6, 2-1), which had won 20 straight league games, squeaked by Whitney High 31-27 this past Tuesday. Staples did not suit up in the rare low-scoring affair between the two. In the previous 10 league meetings with the Wildcats, Artesia had not scored fewer than 52 points and its victories ranged from 15-40 points. Martinez scored a team-high 11 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. The Pioneers faced Palm Springs High the next day at Crypto.com Arena and will host Pioneer High on Friday and Beverly Hills High on Saturday before entertaining Oxford Academy on Wednesday. Cerritos (10-10, 3-0), which began the league winning 29 of its first 30 league games, evened its mark for the sixth time this season following an 85-53 win over Pioneer this past Tuesday. The Dons will try to move over .500 for the second time this season when they visit last place John Glenn High on Friday before hosting Whitney on Wednesday.
